The Stock Market halts. Jay Gould is trying to create some activity in his specialties but the general feeling is on the whole a depressing one. It is expected that on or before the first of July several more roads will go into bankruptcy. Then the earnings on the Vanderbilt roads show that New York Central and Lake Shore do not earn, though they may pay, eight per cent. on their stocks. But better times are coming. There is a large wheat harvest already under way. A great deal of corn has been planted and is growing and if the Democrats make a good conservative nomination for the presidency, a bull movement in stocks will be in order early in July. Many good bonds are selling for what seem to be very low figures. General business cannot be considered good but if the crops turn out as well as they now promise, trade next fall will be far more satisfactory than it has been this spring,

The Evening Post admits that the Independents and anti-Blaine Republicans can in no case form a third party organization; they must vote for the Democratic candidate or abstain from voting for President altogether. In fact the organizing of a new party is a work of prodigious difficulty. It requires time, money and earnest labor. Unfortunately also for the Independents they have no new departure in politics to recommend; they have no programme beyond a profound repugnance to Mr. Blaine and his methods. True, they champion civil service reform, but there is no longer any danger that any party will go back to the old spoils system. Even Mr. Blaine, if elected, would be forced to follow the policy of Mr. Arthur who, out of office and as a so-called practical politician, was a believer in the old way of doing things.

Some of the petroleum speculators finding business dull are organizing a new Exchange to deal in fractional shares of stock. There are many who think that the English plan of making ten shares the unit of delivery would be a good thing to do. It would kill the bucket shops, would largely increase the business of the Stock Exchange and would put small investors on an equality with large operators, to the great advantage of the market in panikcy times. There are literally hundreds of thousands of small capitalists all over the country who would invest in ten and twenty-share lots whenever there was a heavy break in prices. The ready money thus poured into Wall street would help to check the course of a panic. But why a new Exchange to do this? It could be better done by the Stock Exchange itself or by the Mining and Petroleum Exchange, which has over a thousand members, all of whom are not making their fortunes. There are too many Exchanges already, and any new one is probably a scheme to sell seats or create several salaried positions for impecunious speculators who need the money.

The lawyers are anything but pleased at the settlement of the elevated road litigation. General Francis C. Barlow resigned his position as counsel of the Metropolitan Company immediately the settlement was effected, but at the same time he presented a bill amounting to over $96,000, of which some $45,000 was for the expenses of the Van Brunt trial. General Barlow was first employed, we believe, in December, 1882, and if all his bills are like those he has presented to the Metropolitan Company he is not likely to die in the poor-house. The Tribune says that both Jay Gould and Cyrus W. Field were astounded at the bill. It is not. however, likely to be paid until the bills of William M. Evarts and David Dudley Field, and the other numerous lawyers employed on both sides, are presented for settlement. The stockholders of the elevated roads will have to pay a pretty penny for the worse than useless services of these legal gentlemen. Our courts are organized to benefit lawyers, not to settle disputes. The various Stock and Mercantile Exchanges have found this out and their members are expelled if they go to law. The great corporations would do well to follow this example and to organize arbitration committees to settle disputes. They have made a good beginning in their pooling arrangements, which were a device to get rid of railway wars; but the same machinery would be equally useful in settling of the new parks which are about to be opened to our citizens.

business and even legal disputes. Had the matter been left to the courts, the elevated road troubles would have been prolonged for many long years. The disagreement was finally settled by the stockholders most interested against the protests of the lawyers engaged in the case.

There ought to be some machinery to protect the business public against the exactions of lawyers. When a particularly monstrous bill is now rendered the victim has no remedy. If he appeals to a court, the witnesses examined are all lawyers, that have a pecuniary interest in setting an extravagant value on legal services. But unfortunately there is no chance for redress, as the legislators that make laws are almost exclusively composed of lawyers.

The veto of the new proposed building law by Governor Cleveland is simply inexplicable. It had the indorsement of every conservative interest in the building business. Not a voice was raised against it except from those whose opposition should have been an argument in its favor. The "snide" builders seem to have got possession of the Governor's ear, for it is probable that the respectable interests who favored the law were so certain of its merits that they did not care to take up the time of the Governor with arguments in its favor.

Governor Cleveland will have the seventy-two votes of New York in the Chicago convention, but he will not have behind him the moral force of a unanimous party backing. John Kelly and Tammany is bitterly opposed to him, the Sun has pronounced against him, and Samuel J. Tilden wants Randall nominated. Still Cleveland may get the prize, as he is the favorite of the anti-Blaine Republicans.

North New York.

The region beyond the Harlem will, from this time forth, be of the greatest interest to dealers in realty. Its area is nearly as large as the island south of the Harlem River, and is as yet comparatively unsettled. The approval of the new park bills by the Governor, the progress of the work for draining that region, the settlement of the elevated road troubles and the near commencement of the construction of the Suburban Rapid Transit lines are among the factors which will open a new era for the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards. When the next Legislature meets a demand will be made for the creation of a new ward east of the Bronx River, and taking in all that part of Westchester County which fronts the Sound and lies between Port Morris and the north shore of Pelham Bay.

Enterprising promoters and real estate dealers will now begin to carry out plans long formed with respect to this region. The new parks will give added values to certain properties heretofore unavailable. The route of the Suburban Rapid Transit roads will be scanned with a view to forming settlements near stations. Plots will be laid out for building purposes overlooking the parks, and including that beautiful sheet of water, Pelham Bay. Neighborhood parks will be laid out similar to Bedford Park, London, or Llewellyn Park, on the Orange Mountain. Pleasure resorts for Sundays and holidays in entirely new locations will be brought into existence. In short, promoters and enterprising dealers with the maps before them and a good insight as to the possible future of localities will lay the foundations of fortunes to be realized within the coming years.

But northern New York will satisfy other needs besides those for residence and recreation. It is destined to be the seat of many manufactories. The land is cheap, railways to all parts of the country will be at their very doors, and a factory population can live in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards at a minimum of expense. There are some drawbacks, which will be overcome in a few years. Coal, lumber and building material is costly to handle, due to insufficient dock accommodations on the Harlem River. Hence the necessity for the immediate construction of the Harlem canal. Were that finished before the close of 1885 a great impetus would be given to building operations in the region north of the Harlem, but distant from the shores of the North River and the

The present Park Commission will have oversight of the work of caring for the new parks. Governor Cleveland was justified in not approving the law which would have changed the personnel of this department. Three new commissioners, no matter how competent they might have been, would have lacked the experience of Messrs. Crimmins, Viele, Olliffe and Wales. It is understood that the court proceedings will be consummated without any unnecessary delay, and that by next spring over 1,500 acres of new park land will be thrown open to the public for recreative purposes. There is plenty of land for parade grounds, shooting matches, ball matches, athletics, sport of all kinds as well as picnics. In our Albany letter will be found a very full statement of the character

Our Prophetic Department.

MR. Bruin—You have been talking hopefully, Sir Oracle, about the business situation, but you surely must be disappointed at the immediate outlook. There is stagnation on the street. Were it not for Jay Gould's obvious manipulation of Missouri Pacific and Western Union, Stock Exchange figures would range far lower than they do.

SIR ORACLE—I must say that I think the manipulation of the market for the past two years by Gould, Vanderbilt, Villard and the various syndicates who had created new securities for sale, was on the whole hurtful to legitimate trading. Had there been no "pegging" and "washing," the cyclone of last May would have been anticipated by at least a year, and the market would have recovered naturally, but the artificial stimulants applied to prices only made matters worse in the long run. The liquidation was bound to come, and the sooner it was over the better for all concerned. When the Northern Pacific bubble burst last summer, it would have been well to have let the whole market go, but now that we have had our stock panic, I am disposed to look somewhat hopefully on the situation.

Mr. Bruin—I do not see on what you base your expectations. We are importing more than we export. The crops abroad are so promising that Europe will not need much of our grain. Our manufacturing industry is at a standstill, and the army of the unemployed is steadily increasing in numbers. The business public are apprehensive that Blaine may be elected, for it is believed his foreign policy would lead us into broils with other nations. The Democratic party gives us no hope of anything better. Governor Cleveland is, as you have said, a very common-place person. If Senator Bayard is chosen for the Democratic standard bearer, he has nothing to recommend him but a high personal character. He has no executive experience whatever, and he is a fanatical gold mono-metallist. If elected he would make war not only on silver but on the greenbacks.

SIR O.—There is something in what you say; but I confidently predict a better range of prices before the close of July. Our grain crop, that is wheat, rye, barley and the like, will be the largest ever grown in the country; and as for corn there has, as you know, been an immense area planted. We have a good though not a very large cotton crop. The country is steadily increasing in population, and hence the conditions exist for a higher range of values on the street. Stocks and good bonds are intrinsically cheap.

Mr. Bruin—And yet, as you know, there are roads that must go into bankruptcy on the first of July, if not before. One of them is the Denver & Rio Grande, another may be the Louisville & Nashville.

SIR O.—I have kept all that in mind, and the hesitancy of the market is probably due to fears of unpleasant disclosures as to insolvency when the July interest accounts are due. I find that there is even a greater falling off in business in foreign railway systems, but without any such depression as exists on this side of the Atlantic. Let me read you the following extract from the financial column of the Commercial Bulletin, and you will see there is more chance for a rise in our markets than in the foreign investment shares. (Reads.)

The gross earnings of sixty companies exhibit a total of $18,038,831 for May, against $17,457,303 for the same month of 1883, showing an increase of 31/8 per cent. For the first five months of the year the gross earnings amount to $85,396,000, against $83,110,000 for the same period of last year, being an increase of 2% per cent. Much as the London papers indulge in criticisms at the expense of our railroads, neither English nor Continental roads can make an equal exhibit of recent business. The earnings of seventeen principal British railroads for the first five months of the year show a decline of 1 per cent. The six leading lines of France show a reduction, for four and a half months, of 11/4 per cent. The receipts of the Prussian State railways, for the first quarter of the year, fell off about 21/4 per cent.; and the Austrian system shows a reduction of over 31/4 per The Grand Trunk of Canada and the Canadian Pacific, up to the third week of May, fall 71/2 per cent. below last year. It will be seen from this comparison that the American lines are doing better than those of other leading countries; and yet American railroad stocks are subject to a depreciation such as exists nowhere else. If foreign investors could clear their vision of prejudice, they would see an important advantage in selling European railway stocks and investing, if only temporarily, in the better class of American shares.

Mr. Bruin—To what do you attribute this remarkable dullness in business all over the world, especially in Europe?

SIR O.—To the efforts of the commercial world to enforce gold mono-metallism. Any addition to the precious metals is a wholesome stimulant to trade. All reductions of currency, especially when gold or silver is withdrawn, is a vital blow to the business of the world. The debtor class, in which are included all merchants, manufacturers and producers, are exploited for the benefit of the capitalist, banking and lending classes. When currency of any kind is withdrawn, it means a shrinkage of values.

Mr. Bruin—As there is no hope of the rehabilitation of silver, I do not see how you can look for any marked advance in prices.

You have quoted Samuel Benner. In page 140 of the new edition of his prophecies, he predicts that 1884 will be a period of dull trade, for iron will continue to droop. He expects, I notice, a somewhat better trade in 1885, but the tide will not really turn until the close of 1888, when there will be an upward surge in prices, to be followed by a tremendous boom in 1889. Then as to the corn crop, he predicts a poor one this year, for the weather promises to be moist and cool. He gives tables showing that every eight years or thereabouts there are heavy rainfalls and floods in the Ohio and Mississippi Valley. We have had floods so far in 1884 and we shall also have them in 1885. Benner's tables on pages 158, 159 and 160 are well worth reading by those interested in the corn and hog crops of the country.

SIR O.—Well, we shall see. I quite agree with Benner that there is no hope for any great improvement in the business of the country while the price of iron rules low. All I expect is that the very large growing crops will give our railroads plenty to do and help restore public confidence in their value. Despite Benner's prophecies, I believe we shall have a large corn crop this year. Even should the summer be wet and cool, there is so much corn planted and the conditions vary so greatly from Maine to Texas and from Florida to Oregon that we cannot help but have a large crop of that greatest and most valuable of American productions, corn.

Concerning Men and Things.

The daily press rather overdid the matter in lauding the management of the Sheepshead Bay racing course for the improvements that had been made. It is true the track has been widened, the eating accommodation improved and a few flower beds planted. The grand stand remains what it was, but all the races are run in subordination to the wants and wishes of the bookmakers and gamblers. It is remarkable what an amount of gratuitous advertising the press does for these racing clubs. They publish conspicuously every day in their news columns all the entries of the races and the state of the betting. The advertising bills of the clubs owning the grounds do not amount to over a few hundred dollars each meeting. Were they to pay the regular rates for the announcements they get it would cost them tens of thousands of dollars. Of course, they distribute free tickets to the editors and reporters, and hence the gratuitous notices they get. Sheepshead Bay course is the best, as it is the most pupular in the country, but it is notorious that many of the races are mere hippodroming affairs, and that the gamblers have every chance to get the best of the verdant betting public.

Mr. T. B. Connery, the new editor of Truth, seems to have a grudge against Charles A. Dana. It charges him with being a member of the famous community at Brook Farm, near Boston, which is quite true. But it also alleges that that community was a nest of free lovers, which is the very reverse of the truth. The young social reformers who commenced life in that community were men and women who subsequently led the cleanest of lives, socially considered. They were enthusiasts, and doubtless heterodox in many of their views, but their motto was that of the great English scholar: "Pure living, high thinking." No similar number of young people turned out so many literary notabilities as did Brook Farm. Among them were Nathaniel Hawthorne, George William Curtis, Margaret Fuller, George Ripley, W. E. Channing, Charles A. Dana, Parke Godwin and a score of others of equally honorable renown. Ralph Waldo Emerson and other noted literary men often visited the community and were in sympathy with its aims. Mr. Connery errs, of course, through ignorance in speaking so disparagingly of Brook Farm.

Judge John Fitch, the well-known ex-register of bankruptcy, and who has been so successful in Wall street of late years, thinks the stock market is bound to go up. "Set me down as a bull," he said to the writer. "Stocks and especially good bonds are very low. We have passed low water mark and henceforth will be on the mend. The enormous crop of small grain now maturing will give the railroads all they can do, no matter what the price. Then look at the vast quantity of corn seed that has been put into the ground. Even should we have an unfavorable season for corn, there has been so much planted in every part of the country that we cannot but have a very large crop. Then the politics of the country is settled for eight years to come. For Blaine will be elected, and then re-elected, and there will be no disturbance of the tariff, hence good times."

"I am a great believer in Western Union," said Mr. Harry Rogers to "It has never sold for what it is worth. Those who knew the writer. most about the value of that stock were the severest sufferers, for they were long of it up in the seventies. During the present crisis," continued Mr. Rogers, "we narrowly escaped the worst stock panic ever known, simply because the national bank managers lost their heads. Were it not that the Bank of the State of New York agreed to loan $3,000,000 on government securities, several well-known bankers, identified with one of the greatest interests of the street, would have become bankrupt, and I believe that half the brokers who did business on the Exchange would have defaulted on their contracts, which would have been a terrible calamity. In the bank of which I am a director I strongly urged that every dollar should be placed at the disposal of solvent dealers, for if they were allowed to go overboard it would cause needless ruin and hurt the banks. I have always held that banks which lent freely at the top of the market, and then refused all accommodations when prices were at the bottom and a panic impending, did not do their duty to their customers or the public."

Home Decorative Notes.

-The parlors of our town or country houses are the rooms of all others where good taste, elegance and comfort, both in decoration and furniture, should be displayed more or less as circumstances dictate; the drawingroom should not only contain works of art and works for pleasant study, but should also be a room in which one need not fear to move about lest something be thrown down or otherwise disarrange the formality. all know how uncomfortable it is to be ushered into a room which has the appearance of being specially reserved for guests; we should therefore endeavor not to treat it as a show place to be rarely entered, but strive to make a cheerful living room of it where one can enjoy books, papers, music and other amusements, as well as a place to receive our friends and

-A unique match safe is a brass purse one end of which is partially opened, showing several gold coins, while the other serves as a receptacle for the matches.

-Very pleasing bureau covers are of momie cloth traced with the fancy crackle design in filoselle.

-A novel hat rack has three spears of black walnut tipped with silver and fastened together in tripedal form with heavy cord and tassels, silver hooks for holding hats and coats are fastened on each spear.

-A piece of dainty effect is a baby's carriage blanket of snow white wrought with a golden cobweb, within which are caught shaded yellow roses, a lining of blue surah silk completes this charming

-The woodwork in a room should partake of the same colors as the paper or hangings used upon the walls.

-A simple way to decorate a waste-paper basket is to first stain it with mahogany staining, then cut four squares of gold netting and face the edges with red plush, fasten one point at the top of the basket and decorate the one which falls below with plush balls; a large satin bow may be added to one corner.

-The newest and most attractive ornamental vases are of oxidized silver with ornamentations in imitation of old coins, the effect is very rich and unique.

-Tripod tables may be very prettily ornamented by covering the top with shaded red plush, drape the sides with the same material, and fasten at each corner with silk pompons and loops of heavy silk cord; where the legs of the table are joined tie a large bow of satin ribbon corresponding to the different shades of plush.

-Delicate sachets are of very light blue surah silk with one side embroidered with the wild rose design in chenille, finish the edges with white soft lace.

-Very beautiful wedding gifts are the hammered brass or copper sconces, so arranged as to hang upon the wall-or stand upon the table; at the extreme right of the frame is a tiny clock, while at the left is a fancy bracket, arranged to support a candle.

-Court-plaster made at home is economical, and is said to be highly successful. Dissolve one pint of French isinglass in one pint of warm water, to this add ten cents worth of pure glycerine and five cents worth of tincture of arnica, lay a piece of black or of white silk on a board and paint it over with the mixture.

-Exquisite lunch cloths, with pretty doilies to match, are of momie cloth with tiny birds fluttering here and there outlined with light and dark blue linen thread, fringe the cover all around to the depth of about five inches, the whole effect is excellent.

-In hanging pictures the brightest colors should be put in the darkest corners.

-The high art rugs turned out by our manufacturers are chiefly after Indian and Persian designs, the taste for these is growing and like their prototypes they will associate with noble apartments and rich furniture; Turkish and Persian rugs are made with five-eighth borders to match.

-A novel mural decoration is placques of straw gilded, silvered or bronzed and decorated with large square satin bows of bright colors.

-All sorts of strange articles are used for holding flowers, among the newest and rather peculiar receptacles are the wooden sabots; the beauty of these wall pockets consists in their odd ugliness, they are painted on the instep with a representation of leather straps and the words "One, two, come buckle my shoe," painted or etched thereon.

-A very elegant clock lambrequin is of plush with a spray of passion flowers embroidered in silk, it is not necessary to fasten it to the mantel as the clock will keep it in place.

-A grand mistake is made in overloading rooms with fancy articles, for in this way the most inharmonious things are brought together, thus destroying the whole effect, a few articles well selected will give much better satisfaction.

-An ever-widening horizon opens out before the true designer in ornament who stamps individual expression on his work, an expression which has value whether the material be coarse or fine; the effect of fashion on ornament in countless articles of utility or intended solely for decorative purposes has to be recognized by manufacturers; numerous unique and charming effects in silver, gold and copper have recently been produced by the Derby Silver Co., of No. 3 Union square; rare and new designs in sconces of silver and copper with birds, butterflies and various insects in repousse work and framed in imitation of bamboo; square and round tables of richly chased brass, with shelves for odd vases, bric-a-brac, etc.; placques of the most beautiful perfection of finish and graceful tracery worked up in seven different colors; a particularly attractive design is taken from Othello.

In answer to J. W., we would state that the Corlears Hook Park which Governor Cleveland has just sanctioned is seven acres in extent. It is bounded by Cherry street on the north, Jackson street on the west, and the East River on the south and east. It will be a lonesome part of the city at night, but there are multitudes of people on the east side who will be grateful for this breathing space. If lit up at night by the electric light, and if bathing places are supplied along the shores, it will be a very popular resort on summer evenings and nights. A fine band ought to be one of its attractions in the summer season. Of course this park will greatly benefit property in the neighborhood. It may not lead to the construction of costly houses, but it will create a demand for places of amusement and refreshment, and will lead to the erection of a better class of tenements than those constructed heretofore. The market to which our correspondent alludes will be located at Governeur slip, extending from Water street to the river. This slip is 210 feet wide and some 330 long from Water to South street. The proposition is not to have sheds but to throw the slip open to farmers' wagons and market gardeners. If successful this might in time lead to the establishment of a regular market in the vicinity. Wherever a new traffic is established property is, of course, benefited.

One day last week an interview with ex-Governor Benj. F. Butler appeared in all the morning papers. It was written by himself and sent by his secretary manifolded to the several offices. Butler writes all his own interviews, as do many other public men. The position of the ex-Governor of Massachusetts is peculiar and quite unique in our politics. He is the presidential candidate of the Greenbackers, working men, and the "rag-tag and bobtail" of the various "come-outers" organizations, yet he is the chairman of the Democratic delegation from Massachusetts to the Chicago Convention. Of course he is merely using his following for his own purposes. He will cast his lot with the Democrats if they offer him position, but if they do not give satisfactory terms, he has no objections to forming an alliance with the Blaine Republicans. He speaks very respectfully of the Republican standard bearer, which is all the more remarkable, as James G. Blaine is one of the few men who ever got the best of Benjamin F. Butler in a heated personal debate in the House of Representatives.

The New York Cremation Company (Limited) has purchased fourteen lots in East Williamsburg, Long Island, on which it will build a stone cremetory in the Ionic style of architecture, which will cost about In addition to the incinerating retort it will contain a hall for religious ceremonies and a memorial hall for the reception of the urns containing the ashes of the cremated bodies. Work will be commenced immediately. The crematory when finished can be reached in about thirty minutes from any of the east side ferries. The edifice will be situated on an eminence which overlooks the harbor of New York and Brooklyn. There will be nothing sombre about this new home of the dead, as the grounds will be laid out attractively and yews and weeping willows will be dispensed with. The cost of incineration will be less than twenty-five dollars and the time consumed in the process not over fifty minutes. It is understood that the company desired to procure a plot of ground on Fort Washington Heights but could get nothing suitable, and besides the rich property-holders in that neighborhood objected.

Editor RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please oblige by stating in your paper exactly in what the right of dower exists, and what the right of dower is; also what the right of courtesy is, and whether it is obsolete. Also in case a man dies intestate, leaving no wife or children, and having no relatives surviving, save his mother and brothers and sisters, who inherits his real and personal estate? By answering you will oblige greatly

AN OLD SUBSCRIBER. By answering you will oblige greatly

ANSWER-Right of dower is the right which a widow has to one-third of the rents from the real estate her husband leaves, or to the use by herself of one-third of his real estate, so long as she lives. Many people think that a widow owns one-third of her husband's real estate, but that is a mistake, it is only one-third of the income during her life.

The "right by the courtesy" is the right of a widower to the rents from all the real estate his wife may leave; he has this, provided they ever had a child born alive. In our opinion this right is not obsolete in New York, and we always insist on having the husband join in a deed or mortgage. In the case of a similar estate, called the "estate by the entirety," we have just, this month, had the pleasure of saving a client some $40,000 or so upon our opinion as to that estate, based upon the same reasons.

If a man dies intestate, leaving only a mother, and brothers and sisters, the income or use of all his real estate goes to his mother for her lifetime, and to his brothers and sisters equally between them. His personal property goes to his mother and brothers and sisters in equal shares to each.

LAW EDITOR.

A flagrant instance of the disregard which railroad companies have for the public who patronize their lines, and through whose suffrage they have been enabled to lay their tracks, is shown by the unsanitary and nauseous condition of the waiting-room on the Third avenue horse-car line, between Sixty-fourth and Sixty-fifth streets. The writer was returning home from a reception the other evening with a party of ladies and gentlemen and had to change cars at that depot. As it was after midnight it was ascertained that some time would elapse before the next car arrived. The party were about to enter the room marked 'passengers' waiting-room" when the stench which arose from the place, even before it was entered, caused every one to turn back in disgust. The smell is so bad that it can be detected while sitting in the cars in the middle of the avenue. The Board of Health should look keenly after this nuisance, as it renders the air all round this neighborhood unwholesome and thus spreads the germs for disease. It is outrageous that a passenger waiting-room should be in such a filthy condition, and the large-dividend-receiving directors deserve the reprobation of the public for permitting this nuisance to exist.

Mrs. Martha J. Lamb, the historian of New York city, has an article in the Manhattan Magazine for July about the Riverside Drive, which is admirably written and illustrated by a number of highly artistic Not only west side people, but all New Yorkers who are interested in realty, should read this article and learn how fine a drive New York possesses without knowing much about it.

Samuel Benner's Prophecies has had quite a sale. A few copies are still unsold at the office of THE RECORD AND GUIDE, price $1.00. Sir Oracle alludes this week to what Benner has to say about the corn crop of this Realty at Albany.

[From our own Correspondent.]

ALBANY, June 18.

At midnight last Saturday Governor Cleveland ceased signing bills passed by the Legislature of 1884. The last bill signed was made Chapter 551, and was the annual supply or deficiency bill for State affairs. There are that number of new laws added to the statutes this year, as the result of the joint work of the Governor and the Legislature.

Among the last bills approved by the Governor was the act establishing the several parks north of the Harlem River, recommended in the report of the Marsh commission, and directing the authorities to proceed to obtain title to the lands embraced in the parks laid down by The Governor held on to this measure until the last that commission. day before he decided to approve it. It was doubtful if he had then signed it if it had not been for the fact that nearly all the large property owners of the city wrote him letters urging his approval, and some of them, like O. B. Potter, who rarely advocate a measure which incurs expense, wrote the Governor the second time urging his approval of the measure. It is seldom that a measure had so many and so influential advocates as did this park bill. Those who own no property in that section of the city were as strong advocates as were those holding realty in the new wards. They believed that the city should have more parks, and this was the time to get the land for them.

The parks recommended in the report of the Marsh commission and embraced in the bill are six in number, with three connecting park-The six parks and three parkways take in 3,808 acres of land, that is that number of acres which will have to be purchased. ever roads pass through them will be included in the parks, but will not have to be purchased. The commission estimate that the entire amount can now be purchased at an average cost per acre of $2,000. Some of the land will cost double that price or perhaps exceed $5,000 per acre, but portions of the Pelham Bay can be bought for less than $1,000 per acre, making the average as stated above. This will make the cost $7,616,000 for the entire property, including the parkways.]

The Van Courtland Park embraces within its boundaries as laid out in the act over 1,132 acres, of which more than 62 acres are embraced in the roads and streets which pass through it, leaving 1,0391/2 acres to be purchased. Most of this property is entailed, or as near as property can be in this country, and no title can be obtained to it except through the courts, and condemned in that way.

The Bronx Park embraces in the boundaries enumerated about 662 acres About 9 acres are embraced in the streets and roads crossing it, making 653 acres to be purchased. Most of it belongs to old family estates like the Lorillard's. This park is at Fordham.

The Pelham Bay Park is the largest of the six and can be purchased the cheapest per acre and embraces 1,700 to be bought.

The Crotina Park has in its boundaries nearly 142 acres, of which six and a fraction are streets, leaving 135 and a fraction to be purchased. This lies on the south side of One Hundred and Seventy-fifth street and extending to the north line of the Twenty third Ward and to the Southern Boule-

Claremont Park contains 36 acres to be purchased. It lies between Fleetwood avenue, Jane and Elliott streets.

St. Mary's Park contains in all about 29 acres. Taking out the streets there are 25 and a fraction of acres to be purchased. This park lies on the south side of One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, extending to St. Mary's street and to the Port Morris Branch Railroad.

The Bronx and Pelham Parkway provides for a wide avenue or parkway to connect the Pelham Bay with the Bronx Park, and is to be 400 feet wide, including the Fordham and Pelham Boulevard, while it takes in a portion of the route and requires the purchase of 95 acres.

The Mosholu Parkway connects the Bronx and Van Courtland Parks, and is to be 600 feet wide, including Middle Brook Parkway and the brook running through the latter. This will require the purchase of 80 acres

The Crotina Parkway connects the Bronx Park with Crotina Park at Tremont, and is to be 100 feet wide, requiring the purchase of about 12

This makes an elaborate system of parks and parkways and will add to the attraction and comfort of that portion of the city north of the Harlem River as a place of residence. The system does credit to the commission which laid it out, and to the Legislature which finally established the perks and parkways. It will enhance the value of all other realty in that section.

It is arnounced that steps are to be taken to secure the annexation to the city by the next Legislature of all that portion of Westchester County lying east of the Bronx River by extending to the Sound a line from the northerly line of the present city, at its junction with the Bronx.

The Governor also signed the bill establishing a small park of about eight acres at Corlears Hook. This makes nine parks established this year. The Corlears Hook Park is not made mandatory-it is merely authorized. The parks which have thus been established this year are: the Jeannette Park at Coenties slip, the Corlears Hook Park, the park out of the gore of land on the Boulevard, between Seventy-second authorized. The parks which have thus been established this year are; the Jeannette Park at Coenties slip, the Corlears Hook Park, the park out of the gore of land on the Boulevard, between Seventy-second and Seventy-third streets, and the six parks north of the Harlem River, besides the three parkways. No one can say that the Legislature of 1884 did not benefit the city of New York in its park legislation. It also changed the name of the Reservoir Park to the Bryant Park. When the last Legislature method the control of the Harlem River, worth at least $200,000,000,000 conductive debt. The Legislature this year has added about $3,900 more acres to the park and parkways and like the St. George and mere tinder boxes to be inhabited by scores of families.

The bill adding the president of the Fire Department to the new Croton Aqueduct Commission also failed to secure the Governor's approval, and that commission remains unchanged.

The bill to increase the number of policemen by 500 was not signed, neither was the act for the enlargement of the pier between Forty-first and Forty second streets. It appears that the Dock Department has leased to the West Shore Railroad Company at that point dock privileges which take from the Metropolitan Gas Company some of the privileges on the docks which it considers necessary for its business. The bill in question was to extend the pier so as to enable the gas company to secure the privileges and accommodation desired. The failure to approve the bill affects the gas company more than any other interest.

The Mechanics' Lien Law introduced and framed by Mr. Earl, intended to take the place of the present lien laws, also failed to secure the Governor's signature.

The Mechanics' Lien Law Introducts also failed to secure the to take the place of the present lien laws, also failed to secure the Governor's signature.

The same fate befell McDonald's bi'l for the establishment of an exterior street on the East River, from Sixty-fourth to Ninety-fourth street. The water front in that section is to remain unsettled another year. Nothing has been done to regu'ate it on the East River, except that portion referred to in my last week's letter, in the approval of Van Allen's bill, for the Dock Department to make plans and file maps establishing the bulkhead and pier lines from Eighty-sixth street to the junction of Third avenue and the Harlem River, and all wing the abutting property owners to build docks and piers, if the city does not, under the plans laid out.

The act to improve the condition of the sinking fund of the city, requiring all bonds purchased out of the surplus revenues of the sinking fund to be cancelled at once, was not signed.

The act conferring additional power on the Board of Health in regard to the plumbing and drainage of dwellings in the city of New York, more especially as to tenements and lodging houses, regulating the air and light for such houses, a bill which contains important provisions for the potection of the health of the tenement house population, also failed to receive the Governor's approval. Like the building law, this failure is to be regretted.

striking out Morris avenue, between One Eundred and Sixty-second street and Overlook avenue and One Hundred and Sixty-fifth street between Winfield place and Sheridan avenue, and to revise the map included in that portion between Railroad avenue, West Webster avenue, One Hundred and Sixty-second and One Hundred and Sixty-seventh streets and Overlook avenue, also failed to receive the Governor's approval.

Mr. Kittle's bill, preventing the removal of park policemen, except on charges and trial, and also pensioning the park policemen who become physically disabled while in the service, was not signed.

Three or four bills for personal claims against the city, such as placing fireman George Nunn on the pension roll on account of injuries at fires; Robt. T Bailey, for copying and recording wills in Surrogate's office, and that of Mary E. Blakely, for taxes, all failed for want of approval.

The Governor did not sign the bill for repaving Fifth avenue, and that pavement is left to the care of Thomson's department, as heretofore. The bill placed the repavement in charge of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund. The Department of Public Works objected to this interference with its duties, and the bill was not signed. It cannot now be repaved until the amount necessary is placed in the tax budget by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

Real Estate Department.

The event of the week was the sale of part of the Fox estate in the Twenty-third Ward. There was a large crowd and the bidding was lively, but an outsider could not very well decide whether the prices were good or bad, as that and adjoining property, with the exception of a few unimportant parcels, has not been offered for public sale since the land was bought, generations ago. But the heirs, who ought to know, seem to be very much pleased with the sale. They say their expectations were more than realized. It is very certain that the numerous parcels have passed into the hands of individuals who will either improve the property or sell to others who will do so. We comment editorially elsewhere on the splendid future of the annexed district. What with the new parks, the early commencement of the Suburban Rapid Transit Road, the complete system of drainage which is under way and the other local improvements contemplated, there ought to be quite a movement in Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Ward realty at advancing prices. The sale of the Fox estate continued from 12 to 4 o'clock, and was then adjourned to July 1st, when the balance of the property will be distributed to the highest bidders.

Another notable sale during the week was that of the Seaman estate. This comprises some 25 acres and an elaborate mansion with outhouses overlooking the Harlem at Kingsbridge. All who have driven up the old Kingsbridge road can recall the white house and the conspicuous wall around the grounds. Allowing for streets, it is said this property will cut up into 300 city lots, yet it was knocked down for $86,000, although the improvements are said to have cost a quarter of a million. This was deemed a ridiculously low price by experts.

There is a report that the vacant real estate owned by Amcs R. Eno, or at least a large portion of it, is in the market, and if not disposed of privately during the summer it will be offered at auction early in the fall. Mr. Eno's property has been very carefully selected, and investors will pay a higher price for vacant lots owned by him than for property in possession of persons whose judgment in real estate was not considered so good. It will be an excellent thing for the west side should the Eno estate be sold. That gentleman never improved his vacant property, and large tracts of unimproved land in any section of New York island are an injury to the neighborhoods in which they are located.

Of course business is dull just now, but there is more doing than there was last June.

On Saturday two lots on the northwest corner of Alexander avenue and One Hundred and Forty-first street sold under foreclosure for $6,550; these lots sold April 19 for $7,200, but the purchaser refused to take title, as the property is subject to certain restrictions which were not mentioned at the time of sale.

On Monday four lots on One Hundred and Twenty-second street, west of Fourth avenue, were sold for $9,000, to satisfy a mortgage of $6,975. Sixteen lots on Fourth avenue, One Hundred and Twenty-eighth and One Hundred and Twenty-ninth streets were offered, by order of the trustees of Andrew McGown; only three were sold, two on the corner of One Hundred and Twenty-eighth street and one corner of One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street. The bidding was confined to a few bidders, the sale not having been well advertised.

On Tuesday 260 lots in the Twenty-third Ward, belonging to the Fox estate, were offered and 133 sold for a total of $24,785. Of these, sixty eight were in the block bounded by Stebbins and Westchester avenues, Rogers place and One Hundred and Sixty-fifth street, and brought $9,895; eight on Westchester avenue, Tiffany and Kelly streets, sold for $1,435; forty-three in the block bounded by Southern Boulevard, Lyon, Simpson and One Hundred and Sixty-seventh streets, sold for $10,925; thirteen in Bristow and Jennings streets sold for $2,315, and one on the corner of Simpson and Lyon streets for $215. On the same day, Nos. 153 to 157 Crosby street sold for $73,000; Nos. 318 Broome street sold for $20,600; five lots on One Hundred and Thirty-first street, west of Tenth avenue, for $8,750, and two lots on Union avenue for $1,250.

On Wednesday the Seaman property at Kingsbridge, lots on Eleventh avenue, One Hundred and Fourteenth and One Hundred and Tenth streets, and Bloomingdale road and Buena Vista avenue, Yonkers, were sold. Thursday, improved property on Broome and One Hundred and Thirtyfifth streets, Second and Fourth avenues, was sold; also four lots on Eightyninth street, west of Eighth avenue, under foreclosure, for $15,700. sale of the Deane property was further postponed until July 1st and 2d, and the block front on West End (Eleventh) avenue, between One Hundredth and One Hundred and First streets, and a country residence with 6 acres of land on Strawberry Hill, Stamford, Conn., were withdrawn, no bids being offered.

On Friday a four-story tenement on East One Hundred and Eighth street was sold for $8,000, to satisfy a mortgage on which $9,800 was due, and the lot No. 549 West Fifty-seventh street, with frame buildings thereon, brought $9,900. The sale of the Newport, Adelphi and Strath more apartment houses was further postponed until September.

The comparison between last week and the same week last year in the number of transfers is without much significance. More money was invested and the mortgage indebtedness was less, but there were fewer transactions. Here is the table, which speaks for itself:

Three of the eleven properties to be offered next week, under foreclosure, will be sold to satisfy mortgages held by the New York Life Insurance Company. On the dwellings on the north side of Seventy-fourth street, 100 feet east of Fifth avenue, 50x27.2, there is due over $41,000, and on the dwelling on the east side of Fifth avenue, 50.5 north of Sixty-second street, 28x100, there is due the company nearly $100,000.

BRICKS.—Quite a radical change has taken place on the market for Common Hards since our last report. Monday morning found an immense supply afloat, reaching thirty-four barge loads by actual count, to say nothing of the sailing vessels, and making a total supply of about seven million bricks. This seemed to stagger receivers somewhat, and first one commenced to weaken, then another and so on more confident mood, not in expectation of any buoyant recovery, but in the belief that the extreme point of depression has been shown under the severe test to which the market was subjected. The current line of quotations as named by all classes of operators run at about $4.75@5.25 and possibly $5.50 for Jersey's, $5.60.50.575 for Up Rivers, with a little more said to be asked in a few instances; $5.75@6.50 for Haverstraws, and $6.62\% talked of. Of the stock taken this week only one line of purchases is known to have been piled up, while the great bulk has gone direct into consumption, a feature considered very healthy as indicating the full wants of the market, and a disposition among buyers to go right ahead when they can stock at a low cost. Indeed some of the receivers think rates were even lower than necessary, had it not been for the display of timidity on the part of a few operators. A feature of the offering has been its attractive condition, the quality not runn ng so uniformly fine for many seasons, and that not only helped business when buyers fairly got to work, but prevented a more serious reduction in the valuation. The production continues unabated at all points and it is anticipated that this will continue to the end of this month at least. Pale brick are still quoted at about $2.50(@3.50 per M for a general range, but the price all depends upon momentary influences, and a cargo selling at the highest one day would likely go begging at the lowest the next. A few more Pales have found an outlet in Brooklyn of late, and are thought to have been bought, received, and run into work during "lunch" hour.

GLASS.-Demand is reported as generally good and the market strong. Arrivals of foreign have been fair, but not enough to create any surplus, and of American the assortment is poor, with general stock greatly reduced and some of the regular sizes very difficult to find in first hands. Interior wants are understood to be full and somewhat anxious, with buyers booking orders against supplies on future offerings.

HARDWARE —There is, perhaps, a fair local consumption of stock, largely builders' hardware, and the same may be said of other cities, but in the interior not much doing and buyers moving with even greater care than anticipated. Indeed, on the general market trade is now falling off sharply and quickly, and matters have a dull nominal sort of tone. Considerable cutting on price lists is understood to have been going on for some time and the chances are that a number of revisions will be made on the turn into the second half of the year if manufacturers can be induced to work together for mutual interest.

LATH -The calculations of the selling interest have gain been somewhat disappointed, not under any again been somewhat disappointed, not under any further decline, but in the failure to obtain a recovery on price as hoped for. As suggested last week, the large amount sentinto yard placed dealers in a rather independent position, and while a light offering following might have given receiver-trenewed advantage the trouble was that arrivals same in a little too fast, and it frequently required considerable close figuring to place them all. In some instances sales have been made under $2.00 per M, but the latter as yet appears to be about the rate for first-class stook. The market does not look very strong at the close, and with the Fourth approaching another accumulation affoat would be bad for sellers.

IIME .- It has remained a steady market since our last, at the advance then noted. The sustaining power, however, is mainly in the small offerings and the reports of a suspension of shipments from primary sources, as the demand does not appear to have much life and buyers handle only small parcels for immediate use.

LUMBER.—The situation has changed in no important feature since our last, and at this late period of the season the chances are against any animation of a stimulating character. Indeed, more or less of a drag is generally looked for about the end of June, even in good trading periods, and with the extreme cautious policy now prevailing among all classes of buyers, this year is not very likely to be an exception, especially as the heat of a pr-sidential campaign always tends to reduce the volume of business to some extent. Some of the Trade also suggest that while the market did not feel the direct touch of the recent financial disturbance it now commences to see its shadow, inasmuch as advances, even on real estate, are made with great circumspection and tend to retard and in some measure suspend the speculative and semi-speculative form of building. As a general thing agents here are well advised over the condition of trade and its prospects, and whenever free to act on their own judgment are found to be meeting the market readily, but many are bound up by limits on price and other restrictions, and frequently lose business through want of power to act promptly. A trip among the yards on both sides of town reveals a considerable number of vacant spots, yet the general accumulation is unquestionably a full and well-assorted one, and equal to any want likely to arise as matters stand now. From most of the primary sources the advices show a continued effort to retain a shading of strength, but the influence here amounts to very little, buyers admitting no incentive to action except actual wants.

Eastern Spruce sells as it comes to hand, sometimes quickly and sometimes slowly, with more or less fluctuation in the line of value. The average tendency, however, has of late been in buyers' favor, as the supply on hand is quite full and dealers take stock more as a favor than a necessity. A great deal of firm talk now and then comes from primary sources but without drawing out a single order beyond original intentions LUMBER.-The situation has changed in no important feature since our last, and at this late period is dull and decidedly unsatisfactory. Indeed, as suggested in our last, dealers have abandoned even the attempt to present some sort of favorable or hopeful sign for consideration, and now freely admit the hopeless character of the outlook as suggested by current influences. Not only does local demand prove limited, but even the f. o. b. business has contracted into too small a compass to afford any neutralizing influence against light home consumption. Valuations as before but nominal. We quote as follows: Randoms, $18@21.00 per M; Specials, $20@23 (Dry do., do., $23@24; Slding, $22@23 (Dry do., do., $23@24; Slding, $22@23 (Dry do., do., $23@24; Slding, $22@23 (C) cargoes f. o. b at Atlantic ports, $14@15.00 for rough, and $18@21 for dressed. Cargoes f. o. b. at Gulf ports, $13@14 for rough, and $18 @20 for dressed.

Hardwoods are in moderate demand only, and the wants of buyers continue to require the best of quality infunost cases. Anything faulty, therefore, if handled must be offered at very low line of cost, and in some cases additional favors are required in the way of terms of payment, etc. We quote at wholesale rates by carload as follows: Walnut, $55@110 per M.; ash, $35@40 do.; oak, $30@55 do.; maple, $20@32.50 do.; chestnut, $25@30 do; cherry, $40@75 do.; whitewood, $27@35 do., do.; elm, $22@25; hickory, $45@52.50 do.

Shingles remain in a dult condition all around, and the undertone of the market is weak Exporters obtain only a few irregular orders, and the country seems to have no great use for stock thus far this season. We quote Cypress at $8.00@8.50 per M. for 5x20 and $11.00@12.00 do. for 6x20 regularly assorted shipping. Pine shipping stock $2.00@3.50 for 16 inch, as to quality and to quantity. Eastern shaved cedar $4.00 (450 per M. machine dressed cedar shipgles quoted as follows; for 30 inch, $15.00@20.00 for A. and $23@ 35.50 for No. 1; for 24 inch, $13.00@10.00 for A and $18.50@20.50 for No. 1; for 20 inch, $8@9.50 for A and $18.50@20.50 for No. 1; for 20 inch, $8@9.50 for A and $18.50@20

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

ALBANY MARKET.

The Argus reports for week ending June 16 as follows:

There has been a fair number of buyers in market during the week, and the shipments have been large, embracing all kinds of lumber, though mostly of pine, to New York, New Jersey and the East. Pine is arriving freely from all quarters excepting Ottawa. The break in the Champlain Canal, at Colevville, is a serious one, and will probably prevent receipts from the North for the next ten days. The active superintendent of the canals is on the ground, and is making every possible effort which his large experience can suggest for the resumption of navigation. As much the greater part of the supply of spruce and hemlock comes through this canal, and all of the Ottawa pine, it is fortunate that so large a quantity of these woods is now on the yards in the district. From Oswezo and all points on the Frie Canal receipts are free, and the stock and assortment in the district will be ample for any probable demand. Seasoned hardwoods of all kinds are in good supply and are going off steadily. Lath are also on hand in sufficient quantities, and shingles enough for the moderate demand.

THE WEST.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

CHICAGO.

At the docks.—The past week has been a busy one at the cargo market. A great fleet has crowded the docks all the week, partly on account of the northerly gale that has swooped everything in the shape of a lumber lugger that was afloat from St. Ignace to the head of the lake into this port, and partly because the mill owners have been clearing off the residue of their dry inch stock and forwarding it to market. This week a crowded market has failed to cause a break, and the manner in which offerings have been taken shows that the demand is fully equal to the supply. It is true that No. 2 inch lumber is selling this year for an average of $1 less than it did last year at this time, but it can be said that probably there is that much difference in the quality of the lumber offered. More than ever before, the better grades are being sorted out before the lumber is shipped to this market, while the better mill cuts are picked up over the lake, and never come to this market. Most of the inch stuff offered at the docks is very ordinary or coarse common, and probably sells for all that it is worth.

The commission men seem to have struck an age.

inch stuff offered at the docks is very ordinary or coarse common, and probably sells for all that it is worth.

The commission men seem to have struck an easy but efficient way of handling their customers and realizing fair prices. They almost uniformly ask from $1 to $2 more for lumber than they expect to sell it for. For instance, a cargo of medium stock will be offered at $16 a thousand. The would-be purchaser, of course, will scoff at that flyure. The commission man will then drop to $15, then to $14, and finally take $13 50 or $13. Starting at $15, a cargo was known to sell during the past week at $12.50. The majority of the lumber coming sells at figures ranging from $10.50 to $12 50, the top figure bringing a fair article of medium lumber that will run well to strips with some pickings. A good many cargoes sell for money in the neighborhood of $11, maybe an eighth or a quarter of a dollar less, or as much more. Buyers insist on the fractions of a dollar, and the commission men concede it as a lubricating oil to trade. Thus, while there has been friction enough between seller and buyer during the week to prevent a rush of movement, it has not been such as to lock the wheels; the market has continued in steady motion, and the fleet has scattered away up the branches. Piece stuff has sold generally at $9 to $9.25 a thousand. A desirable cargo with a large proportion of long lengths in it sometimes has brought $9 50, but that figure is not often realized. Really bone dry piece stuff would sell for $10 and $10.23. Timbers over 20 feet long are worth $10 20,10.75. Short timbers sell for about the same prices as piece stuff.

No better news, on the whole, could be received from the drives than comes to hand this week. The logs will come out of the streams exceptionally clean, and there will be little shutting down of mills for want of material. Later rains will not only hasten the drives that are now on the way, but bring out of the small streams quite a proportion of the logs that are now hanging.

small streams quite a proportion of the logs that are now hanging.

Lumberman and Manufacturer, | Minneapolis, Minn. |

The movement of lumber from all the distributing points is truly encouraging. The demand seems to be fully up to last year's figures and the entire trade are taking a more cheerful view of the situation. except the Wisconsin railw_y mill men, who are in a dilemma over the railroad treatment. They can hardly afford to shut down and let their logs rot and their mills lay idle and it is certainly not an encouraging prospect to receive orders from the railroads to sell $2 chesper than Chicago. Some of the heaviest concerns are canvassing among themselves as to the policy to be pursued so far without conclusion. There is a free movement of lumber from Lake Superior points to Chicago, which naturally ought to go southwest by rail.

From 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 feet of logs and lumber are being distributed from the St. Croix. Chippewa, Black and Wisconsin rivers to Mississippi River points every day. This is unprecedented. That the Central States will absorb this lumber during the next year is confidently believed by the best posted men in that trade. The only fears are that Chicago will get loaded up and force prices down late in the season. There is well-defined rumors that Chicago is getting a cut on her 18-cent rate to the West (Wisconsin gets none on her 25½ rate).

St. Louis is receiving a large amount and the stock is reported finer than has been received for years, especially the Wisconsin River stuff.

Logs are a drug on the Minneapolis market, and many holders are considering the propriety of turning their logs over the falls and rafting at St. Paul.

The drives are remarkably successful on all the streams of Wisconsin and Minnesota, the rains of the last week have made them sure.

ENGLAND.

ENGLAND.

The Timber Trade's Journal as follows:

London.

There is an undercurrent of business doing, and, if reports are true, things are not all so still as appears on the surface. That trade is far from active there is no gainsaying, but still we see quite the usual large fleets of vessels are loading abroad for this side, and these cargoes must necessarily be for somebody. As far as relates to the larger ports, the bulk of the vessels in present use would each represent in standards more than twice as much as the same number ten or fifteen years ago.

The position of the market is that after the long interregnum—about two years—of bad price and little doing, in the natural order of things an improvement should be close at hand, and it is for this that many are waiting who would under other circumstances be getting anxious at seeing the season slipping away with so little done to place to its account. The stocks of dealers, &c., in the docks, are rapidly accumulating, and though the absence of any sale this week will be beneficial to prices on the next occasion, yet without something really turns up to give trade a spurt, we fear any advance of values can only be of a temporary character.

NAILS .- Trade is dull and without promise of early improvement. A great many customers complain that they were induced to invest pretty freely early that they were induced to invest pretty freely early in the spring to cover two or three months' wants on the report of a forthcoming reduced general production, and in all probability hardening values, but now find the market not only abundantly supplied, but rather on the downward turn. No actual loss has been incurred, but the shave was a close one, and is leading to great caution on current orders. Exporters show no activity at the moment. Average rates are at about $2.45@2 60 per keg, for 10d to 60d, but car lots have sold as low as —.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC .- In a wholesale way the movement is very small, and jobbers are also dull, the entire market lacking in spirit and character. It is, however, a season to expect such a situation, and an improvement is looked for on the approach of fall. Valuations remain about the same as for some time past, but from a nominal basis and are probably full high. Linseed Oil quiet and steady at 59@6'c. for foreign, and 57@58c. for domestic. Spirits Turpentine dul, but held about steady at 31@32½ per gallon, according to size of invoice, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH .- Generally stock is under neglect beyond the usual trade jobbing call, and the cost remains about the same as for some time past. quote: Pitch, $2 25@2.30 per bbl; Tar. $2.50@2.00 do., according to quantity, quality and delivery.

MARKET QUOTATIONS.

Our figures are based upon cargo or wholesale valuations in the main. Due allowance must therefore be made for the natural additions on jobbing and ratal parcels.
