No. 1,078

With the Presidential election over there will doubtless be a revival of business operations which ought to last until the middle of December. Real estate will certainly be more active. Wall street gives every appearance of increased animation. There is a general feeling that stocks will be higher and speculation more spirited. The election of a Republican President will be interpreted to mean greater government expenditure. In several of his speeches Mr. Harrison has said that he was not afraid of the word subsidy. He evidently believes in using the surplus for rehabilitating the commerce and effecting internal improvements. Then General Harrison is a pronounced silver man. He represents the debtor section of the country, and his aim will be to make money easy and currency abundant. Everything seems to conspire to help values of all kinds; nothing, indeed, can prevent the upward surge of prices unless the administration should decide to put a stop to bond purchases and to permit the surplus to accumulate in the Treasury. hardly, however, seems probable that the Treasury policy will be changed during Mr. Cleveland's term of office.

Superficially it would seem as if the County Democracy had received its death-blow. Tammany won a signal victory last Tuesday, which will give it a patronage that may keep that wing of the Democracy in power for years. But there will not be offices enough to go around, and there will be a world of discontent after the distribution is effected. There will be twenty applicants for every position to be filled. The County Democracy will represent the discontent of the "cuts," and will be in a position to make deals with the Republicans and help to discomfit Tammany Hall in future elections. The Democratic party of this city is too large to be embraced within one organization.

The Mugwumps cut a sorry figure in the announcement of the result of the recent election. Their organs, the Times, Evening Post and Harper's Weekly, supported Grover Cleveland and Warner Miller and Abram Hewett, all of whom were defeated, while they antagonized Harrison, Hill and Grant, all of whom were elected. This makes a very bad showing, and deprives the Mugwumps of any power to influence nominations and elections. Indeed, their organs had better abandon politics and try to follow, rather than lead, public opinion. There is always room for high-minded, independent, conservative journals. But the Times and Evening Post have not won much honor as supporters of the Democratic party.

Jay Gould had a mortal quarrel with the elder Robert Garrett because the latter declined to enter into a deal which would unite the Baltimore & Ohio with Gould's Southwestern system of railroads. Gould's scheme was to have a continuous railroad connection extending from Baltimore by way of St. Lonis to the City of Mexico and the Pacific Ocean; but Garrett was brought up in too conservative a school for any such gigantic operation. He left the B. & O. to his crazy son, who nearly succeeded in ruining it. But now the Richmond Terminal has come into the field and has consolidated some 7,300 miles of road. extending from the Atlantic seaboard to the Mississippi River, and from Washington and Richmond to the Southwest. It is now rumored that the B. & O. will be added to this system. The fact is emphasized, that Drexel & Co. have been made the financial agents of the Richmond Terminal. This great banking firm already controls the B. & O. The next step will be the addition of the Missouri Pacific. This would make one of the greatest railroad combinations in the world; yet the close of the year 1889 may see it carried out. It is hardly likely, however, that Gould, who first conceived the plan many years ago, will be allowed to have much of a voice in its final consummation.

George E. Waring, the well-known sanitary engineer, writing from California, declares that the great land boom on the Pacific Coast is over, and that the foreclosure suits about to be begun will bring values within the limits of common sense. It is remarkable, by the way, that the collapse of these land speculations in the West has not been attended by any widespread disaster. Emigration still continues to this new country, and many of those who have bought at high prices can afford to hold on. These and other causes help to break the fall in land values. It is worthy of note that since 1837 there has been no general land speculation. The fever has broken out in spots, as it were. Every State has had it in turn, but the excitement, when it appears, is confined to certain localities. It is not so long ago when it was heard of in Manitoba, on the line of the Northern Pacific road, and in Dakota. Later there was a violent land speculation in the coal and iron regions of Northern Alabama and Mississippi and Southern Tennessee. great railroad building movement in 1885 and 1886 was started by land speculative cities like Denver, Kansas City, Wichita, and probably a hundred other smaller places. Some time in the not distant future New York real estate will have a boom. The rapid increase of our population warrants it, especially as we are limited by bays and rivers, which permit growth in only one direction. Whenever the unsold houses within our city limits are absorbed there is likely to set in an active demand for unimproved real estate.

Prof. John A. Church, well known in engineering circles in this country, has made his mark in China in opening copper and gold mines. He writes home there is a new departure in that ancient There are now about a hundred miles of standard gauge empire. railroad built, and he says there is little doubt that this line will eventually extend into a great system of iron roads. The Ping Chuan copper mines are under the charge of Mr. Ellis Clark, and the Ping Tu gold mines are being opened by H. M. Ellsworth, both Americans. The mineral wealth of China is enormous, but has as yet been undeveloped. The importance of this matter is that Americans are in favor in China. True, Europe so far supplies the rails, but we can furnish locomotives, cars and general machinery. Our trade with China ought to be very profitable, and hence the bad policy of our exclusion laws in the way they were passed. There is no objection to putting a stop to Chinese immigration into this country, but it should be done in a manner not to offend the natural susceptibilities of the Chinese people.

Mayor-Elect Hugh J. Grant.

The Mayor elected last Tuesday has a chance to distinguish himself above any chief magistrate of the city who has ever taken his seat in the City Hall. There is no question as to the Mayor-elect's personal honesty and his desire to do his whole duty. As an Alderman he was above reproach, and his management of the Sheriff's office has won him warm commendations from all who know what good work he has done in that department of the city government. Under his management the Sheriff's office has been a credit to the metropolis.

The incoming Mayor is well posted in New York real estate. As a business he understands it thoroughly. It follows that we may expect an intelligent oversight in everything that relates to realty. Mayor Hewitt has many brilliant qualities, but he was capricious in dealing with the larger interests of the city. He objected to the widening of Elm street. His rapid transit scheme was impracticable. He had no good scheme for relieving the gorged thoroughfares in the lower part of the city. He was at odds with the Aldermen and with the State Legislature, and then his love of quarreling has impeded the city business. But Mayor-elect Grant is a very different kind of man. He is sensible and straightforward, while he will be in harmony, at first at least, with the other departments of the city government. His great power of appointment will practically make him master of the situation so far as this city is concerned. Among the matters to which his attention should be directed are the following:

- 1. The utilization of our present elevated system. Double tracks should be permitted on the Second, Third and Sixth avenues so as to give more frequent and fast trains, which would save at least twenty minutes in running the length of the island. Then the tracks ought to be extended to the principal ferries.
- 2. The widening and extension of Elm street so as to form a continuous thoroughfare from the Brooklyn Bridge to the Harlem River. No street cars should be permitted, but another elevated road should be authorized to accommodate the increase of travel along the centre of the island.
- 3. A west side widening and extension of some street to relieve the gorged traffic in that part of the city.
- 4. The extension of the cable system so as to embrace the Third, Sixth and Eighth avenues. This would give swifter transit and relieve the streets of unnecessary cars and horses.
- 5. Improvement and extension of our dock system. An elevated road over the ends of the piers for freighting purposes, so as to get rid of trucks and carts in our street.
- 6. A system of half-yearly, if not quarterly, payment of taxes, so as to get rid of the necessity, which now exists, of borrowing money in advance to carry on the business of the city. This is done in many parts of Germany and is an accommodation to the poorer class of taxpayers. In this connection, Mayor-elect Grant would do well to read and study Professor R. T. Ely's remarkable work on taxation.

There are many other points which might be urged, but these will suffice for the present. We hope and believe that Hugh J. Grant will agreeably disappoint voters who thought that Mr. Hewitt was the only one of the candidates fitted to be Chief Magistrate of the metropolis.

Our Prophetic Department.

READER—What is to be said about the elections? what moral do you draw?

SIR O .- Whiskey.

READER—That is rather enigmatical. What had whiskey to do with the result?

SIR O.—It is very evident that Mr. Cleveland would have been elected were it not that the liquor interests back of Hill traded him off for votes for the Democratic candidate for Governor. The result in New York and Kings Counties proves that conclusively.

READER—What general moral is to be drawn from the election?

SIR O.—The mighty influence which direct pecuniary interest has over sentimental considerations is very obvious. Harrison was backed by the great manufacturing interests of the country; a money power is always potent in our politics when tariffs and taxes are being discussed. Hill was opposed by the Mugwumps, the temperance people and reformers generally, but the powerful liquor interest of the State was a unit for him. The Mugwumps, the laboring people, the temperance folks and reformers generally must have cast 25,000 votes more for Warner Miller than Presidential Candidate Harrison received, but the interested vote was more than enough to overcome these adverse sentimental interests and give Hill a handsome majority besides.

READER—But surely there was some other interest favoring Hill besides the rank and file of the Democracy and the limited saloons.

SIR O.—Yes, in these conversations before the election, I stated that political machines of 'all parties would exert a powerful interest for David Bennett Hill. The indorsement of the Australian system of voting would have deprived an immense mass of people of certain emoluments connected with the conducting of elections. For instance, there were over 800 election districts in New York city alone, and there was an average of over forty ticket-peddlers, canvassers and "heelers" at each of these districts. Had the Saxton bill become a law the occupation of these camp-followers would have been gone. There was a heavy anti-Hill vote polled; but the liquor men, the machine men and the bribable voters were able to make good Hill's loss and give him a handsome majority besides.

READER—How do you account for Grant's handsome majority?

SIR O.—Again powerful pecuniary interests came into play.

Tammany was willing to make promises with regard to offices.

Hewitt and his backers would do nothing of the kind. Still, I am one of those who believe that Grant will make a much better Mayor than Hewitt. The latter is much the more brilliant man, but the Mayor-elect is the safer one, while he is just as honest.

READER—What general remark have you to make anent the election?

SIR O.—It is a notable circumstance that the Democratic vote has increased in the Republican States and the Republican vote in the Democratic States. In the next Presidential election there will be a great many more doubtful States than in the one which has just taken place. It is a curious fact that notwithstanding "the free trade scare" Cleveland made a better showing in New Jersey and Connecticut, two States which depend more on manufacturing than do any of the agricultural States proper.

READER—What kind of an administration will Gen. Harrison's be. SIR O.—A good one, I think. The President-elect is a man of tact and sense. He has made a great many speeches since he was nominated, and he has said nothing indiscreet. No handle could be made of any of his chance expressions. Jas. G. Blaine's addresses afforded numerous texts to the Democrats, but Gen. Harrison managed to slide over the very thin ice without coming to grief once.

READER—Have you any idea in what respect his financial policy will differ from that of President Cleveland?

Sir O.—Vestern ideas will take the place of Eastern ideas in administering our Treasury Department. Silver will have a better show. So far, every Secretary of the Treasury has discriminated against silver. Although three-fourths of the Democrats favor the coinage act, yet Mr. Cleveland and every one of his Secretaries have been consistently opposed to the great majority of Congress and the American people,

READER—As the West is the debtor section of the nation it follows, of course, that President-elect Harrison's policy would favor easy money and an increase in the currency. I recall the fact that in one of his speeches he said he was not afraid of the word subsidy, SIR Q.—Yes, my impression is that any danger of a surplus in the Treasury would be met by liberal expenditures on the part of the new administration. This has been the policy always favored in these columns.

READER—In this connection it would be well to keep in mind the fact that Congress reassembles in December. What are we to expect as the result of its deliberations? It has a great deal of unfinished business to transact, and its action may be important from a financial point of view.

SIR O.—I would not be surprised if this tail-end of a Congress passed measures that would have a vital effect on the business of the country. It will be forced to make some disposition of the surplus in the Treasury. Now it may agree to expend this money in public buildings, in rehabilitating our merchant marine, or in some extraordinary appropriations. This would help business. Then it is not impossible that the two Houses may agree to get rid of some of the tariff and tax imposts. Both parties are committed to a revision of the tariff, and it is not impossible that there may be some agreement to extend the free list, get rid of the tobacco tax, and perhaps cut down the sugar duty. This House and Senate are both thoroughly educated as to the effects of the tariff duties and internal taxes, and it should not be difficult for the two parties to come to some agreement.

READER—Well, suppose the free list is extended, the tobacco tax taken off and the sugar duty reduced. Let us also take it for granted that some extraordinary expenditures are voted, so that by the time Congress adjourns there will be no further fear of undue accumulations in the Treasury, what would be the effect on stock speculation and general business?

SIR O.—I should say that the general business of the country would be benefited by any series of measures which would put a stop to the locking up of the money of the country in the Treasury; but I should look for a serious disturbance in the stock market if the administration were to stop buying bonds. It is the steady purchasing of government obligations, since the close of the civil war, which has reduced the rate of interest from 7 to about 3 per cent. There has been a perpetual corner on bonds because the Treasury was always in the market to bid them up. The investments thus released sought other securities, and hence there was a perpetual stimulus to speculation.

READER—In that case a stoppage of bond purchases would be followed by a rise in the rate of interest. Four or five per cent. securities would decrease in market value. Government "fours" would sink to the neighborhood of par. This might mean a panic in Wall street.

SIR O.—I think the bulls in stocks had better be careful should the government stop its bond purchases. When that policy is decided upon, I should advise every one to put their securities into money. We know what happened in the summer and fall of 1887, when the government stopped buying its own securities. Prices went down, nor was there any real recovery until the treasury resumed its bond buying last April. Money in general business is worth intrinsically more than three or four per cent. in this young country. The lower rates current for the last seven or eight years are unnatural. There is no probability of our ever seeing a permanent seven per cent. rate again, but in a normal condition of things the charge for the use of money should rule higher in the United States than in Europe.

READER—But what else is Congress likely to do in the coming short session.

SIR O.—It will probably pass several measures, which it did not dare to act upon before the Presidential election. Some of the Senators and a good many of the Representatives take leave of public life on the 4th of March. They will consequently be willing to vote for measures they might be afraid of before the Congressional elections. The Union Pacific Funding bill may pass. The amendments to the Interstate Commerce law may also be indorsed and in a way satisfactory to the great corporations. It would never have done to have favored the railroads before the Presidential election, but I think you will find that these powerful corporations will so manipulate the present law as to do away with the objections, which are urged against the Interstate Commerce act as originally enacted.

READER—If pooling should be permitted and the long and short-haul clause modified, it would add largely to the revenues of the great systems of roads.

SIR O.—Still, I am of the opinion that we must not be too sure about a continuous bull market next spring. True, the railroads will have all they can do and rates will have been restored, but the probable stoppage of bond purchases and the getting rid of the Treasury accumulation will depress stock values. Then the balance of trade is now heavily against us. We have imported no gold this fall, which is an ominous circumstance; for, since the silver coinage act, we have been large importers of the yellow metal every fall until this year. We cannot expect Europe to buy so heavily of our securities during the next year, and hence the apring may see a heavy drain of gold from our shores to Europe. The future is not as rosy as it might be.

The Election and New York City.

Editor RECORD AND GUIDE:

The result of the election terminates and relieves a pressure which for six months has weighed down the business of the country. For more than twenty years, under the protection system, established during and after the war, the prosperity of the country had been constant and uniform. The people were satisfied. Coming into the administration under this system, Mr. Cleveland found a surplus in the Treasury accumulating more than one hundred millions a year. He alone was troubled about it. The people were not. They did not think that a tariff was taxation, nor did they feel it to be a burden, or ask for relief.

He might have been well contented to put the country, through the army and navy departments, into a thorough condition of defence, limit the appropriations to the best objects and pay the rest of the surplus off in reducing the public debt. He would then have gone to the country for re-election with a good record.

But he led off to reduce the surplus by diminishing the revenue, at a time when the people did not want or understand it, and his own party were not agreed on it. He made the issue of his election a question that the people had not at heart. With a simple twist the Republicans turned this into an issue of free trade or protection. In this the people were contented with the system they lived under, fortified by the patriotic feeling that it built up national independence. On this issue Mr. Cleveland's defeat was necessary. It was a theory, and not a living issue, for with a strong Republican Senate no Democratic measure could ever pass.

! Now the end of it all is that the protective system will endure for a generation, with the exception of such changes as the party who made it may make in it, and Mr. Cleveland could have done nothing more. The unbounded prosperity of the country will continue. Its growth in population, in railroads, in new enterprises, and in all material products will be greater and greater. Its towns and cities will increase, and the fortunes of this city will start upon a new and long-continued upward career, free from the disquietudes which have unsettled things so much for six months past, or any others of the like kind.

If Mr. Harrison sees this revenue coming in by the enormous hundreds of millions I trust he will not be frightened by it any more than a prosperous banker or manufacturer would. He ought to spend it wisely and keep paying off the debt, and say to the people: "Look at this surplus; when you think the burden is heavy, let your representatives in Congress diminish it." We are bound to be a great country. Our debt will be paid off, our revenues will be enormous, our defences will be perfect, our internal improvements will be extensive and complete; and the people, in patriotic pride, will pay for it without complaint. Mr. Cleveland did not understand that the country was so rich. That was all.

Of this great wealth New York city will be the centre. The concentration here will give it a growth beyond any present calculation.

Real Estate Department.

There is absolutely nothing new to report about the market. Business has been almost at a standstill during the past week, owing to the elections, which always unsettle dealings temporarily. Now that the result of the voting on Tuesday is known, it is to be hoped that business will receive some of the attention that has for months been paid to politics.

The Salesroom was fairly attended on Wednesday, when the four-story stone front dwelling No. 241 5th avenue, between 27th and 28th streets, size 26x100, was offered by order of court under partition orders. sum of $105,000 was realized, which is $10,000 more than the adjoining building, No. 239, was sold for in March, 1887. Joseph Naylor was the purchaser.

The sales held at the Exchange on Thursday were for and unimportant. Yesterday was the busiest day of the week on 'Change. There was a large attendance, and much interest was manifested in the sale of the Central Park apartment houses. The property was offered under foreclosure to satisfy second mortgages, and the eight houses were knocked down to the plaintiff, James J. McComb, for $1,661,000 over first mortgages and interest aggegating $2,292,371, or a total of $3,953,371. The amount about $1,000,000 short of advances and interest thereon made by Mr. McComb. There are 128 apartments in the eight buildings, renting from about $1,200 to $5,000 each, and nearly all are occupied. The total rental obtained just about pays interest on the first mortgages and the expenses of running the property. Seven lots on 8th avenue, 81st and 82d streets, brought a total of $130,384, and six lots on West 58th and 59th streets realized $107,450. Both parcels were secured by Mr. McComb. They were pledged by Mr. Navarro to secure advances made by Mr. McComb to complete the apartment houses which are referred to above. It may be added that Mr. McComb owns the first mortgages against the Madrid, Lisbon, Cordova and Barcelona, which amount to $1,270,725, and he is arranging to buy the first mortgages against the Granada, Valencia, Salamanca and Tolosso, aggregating $1,021,646.

On Monday next, the 12th inst., Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell two lots on the south side of 103d street, east of Riverside Drive; on Monday, the 14th inst., the houses at No. 519 Lexington avenue and No. 242 East 33d street; and on Thursday, the 15th inst., the Stuyvesant leasehold property, No. 241 3d avenue.

On Tuesday, the 13th inst., James C. Lalor will sell some desirable Brooklyn property. It comprises two brick houses at Nos. 623 and 625 Clason avenue, the stores and dwellings at Nos. 490 and 4901/4 Smith street, and the three-story front house, with extension, and one-story house in rear, at No. 93 North 6th street. This property will be sold at the New The sale is absolute.

York Real Estate Exchange. The sale is absolute. On Tuesday, the 20th inst., Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell the brick building at No. 112 Thompson street, and the following Brooklyn properties

The house and stable at No. 131 Remsen street and 42 Sidney place, and lots on St. Mark's avenue, Carroll street and on the corner of Washington avenue and the Eastern Parkway. This is an executor's sale.

On the same day Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell the Mechanics' and Traders' Bank building, on the north east corner of the Bowery and Broome street. This comprises a valuable four-story, basement and sub-basement corner, and the property is to be sold on account of the bank's forthcoming removal to No. 486 Broadway, corner Broome street.

On Thursday, the 22d inst., A. H. Muller & Son will conduct one of the most important auction sales of the season—that of the Joshua Jones estate. The property includes the handsome residence on the southwest corner of 5th avenue and 28th street, with the stable and lot adjoining; fifteen modern houses at Nos. 109 to 137 West 74th street, and one hundred choice vacant lots on 8th and 9th avenues, 74th and 75th streets, taking in the whole This sale will bring together an unusual gathering of buyers and interested onlookers. It will afford an excellent opportunity for builders to acquire some choice west side property for improvement, which has long been regarded with eager eyes.

There is an increase this week in the number and amount of the transfers and mortgages and a decrease in the projected buildings, as compared with the corresponding week last year, as will be seen from the tables:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.-In nearly all important particulars the market for Common Hards remains much the same as at the date of our last. Naturally business has been somewhat impaired during the present week by the all absorbing excitement over the election, but making due allowance for that, the general movement was a fair one, and has kept the grades most wanted a control of demand is just than Hewitt. The latter is much the more than Hewitt. The latter is much the more Mayor-elect, is the safer one, while he is just as spiply was sometimes behind the waiting outlet. The bidding limit seemed to be about $5.00 per M, and the natural inference is that to pay any more would cut off the margin of those who are seeking stock of the margin of those who are seeking stock of the margin of those who are seeking stock of the margin of those who are seeking stock of the margin of those who are seeking stock of the margin of those who are seeking stock of the margin of those who are seeking stock of the margin of those who are seeking stock of the margin of those who are seeking stock of the margin of those who are seeking stock of the margin of those who are seeking stock of the margin of those who are seeking stock of the seeking stock of the margin of those who are seeking stock of the seeking stock of the margin of those who are seeking stock of the seeking stock of the margin of those who are seeking stock of the seeking stock of the margin of those who are seeking stock of the past two weeks, and no doubt that important event has burn to the fall of much of the dullness of the past two weeks, and no doubt that important event has burn to the fall of much of the dullness of the past two weeks, and no doubt that important event has burn to the fall seek of the margin of much of the margin of those who have about all they can any important objection to cost than to the fall seek of any important objection to cost than to the fall seek of any important objection to cost than to the fall seek of any important objection to cost than to the fall seek of any important objection to cost than to the fall seek of any important objection to cost than to the fall seek of any important objection to cost than to the fall seek of any important objection to cost than to the fall seek of any important objection to cost than to the fall seek of any important objection to cost than to the fall seek of any important objection to cost than to the fall seek of any rivals were possibly a trifle larger, but taken care of with no more than the usual difficulty, and a steady range of value supported by all the leading receivers. Of St. John stock a trifle more has been available on spot and to arrive, but it found very good sale and is reported as commanding former figures without much difficulty.

LUMBER.-We have a very narrow uneventful sort of market, and a decided dearth of news is found in brilliant man, but the in coastwise supplies may as honest.

White Pine, outside the steady call for box boards, receives very little attention from consumers and is without any great amount of strength in the matter of values on the distributive outlet. This finds full reflection upon whatever exists here in the way of a wholesale market, and if the agents who are still struggling to place cut lots of stock on behalf of interior houses secure custom, it seems almost a certainty that they must offer buyers some sort of inducement, if not in the way of price, at least in the matter of grading. Dealers generally claim to have all the stock they think they can use, and some pretend to fear their investment has been too liberal. The export outlet still furnishes only moderate and uncertain relief, most advices from abroad proving tame. We quote $17.50@19.00 for West India shipping boards; $20@29 for South American do.; $14.50@16.00 for box boards; $16.50@17.50 for extra do. Yellow pine is occasionally depicted as suffering greatly for some of the other leading standard grades of lumber, and a great many receivers insist upon being cheerful over the market. Margins are narrow, of course; they have been for a long while and are likely to continue so until supply and demand can become better adjusted, but operators are not keeping in business at a loss, and they are in one way and another getting a comparatively good run of trade. We quote Randoms, $18.50@21.00 per M; Specials, $19.00@21.00 do.; $23.00@25.00 do.; $13.00@114.50 do.; Cargoes, f. o. b. at Atlantic ports, $13.00@15.00 for rough and $18.00@20.00 for dressed; Cargoes, f. o. b. at Gulf ports, $12.00@13.50 for rough and $18.00@20.00 for dressed; Cargoes, f. o. b. at Gulf ports, $12.00@13.50 for rough and $10.00@

Shingles seem to be about steady. Consumption is ractically over, but dealers want stock occasionally practically over, but dealers want stock occasionally against spring requirements, and there is also a continued fair opportunity at times on foreign orders. Pine stock is held with somewhat greater firmness. We quote Cypress at $860,9.50 per M for 6x20 and Cypress large $10@16. Pine shipping stock, $3.50@4.75 for 18 inch, and Eastern saw grades at $3.25@5.00 for 16 inch, as to quality and to quantity. Eastern shaved cedar, $4@4.75 per M; Machine dressed cedar shingles quoted as follows: For 30 inch, $15@20 for A and $23@28.50 for No. 1; for 24 inch $13@15 for A and $17.00@12.00 for No. 1; for 20 inch, $8.75@9.50 for A and $11.00@12.00 for No. 1

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

Perhaps as remarkable a feature of the current movement in the country at large as any is that to be witnessed on Lake Michigan. The total of receipts in this city since January last has reached nearly or quite 1,800,000,000 feet, or nearly 200,000,000 more than at a corresponding time last year. If the ratio of receipts for the past portion of the season be maintained to the close, by January there will have been received in this market fully 2,000,000,000 feet of lumber, or nearly as much as in the famous season of 1882. Indeed, it is not improbable that the total this year will be fully as much as in 1882. Yet it is to be observed that the market has been sufficiently active and capacious to fairly relieve the manufacturers of their product. Stocks at the mills around Lake Michigan are nowhere excessive, while at some points, notably Manistee, they have been sold up unusually close. The dealers of this city seem to have had full faith in lumber property, and have bought freely, and while there is now in the wholesale yards here an excess of about 50,000,000 feet of lumber as compared to the stock on hand at a corresponding time last year, the dealers do not feel that they are overloaded.

It is a noteworthy feature of this year's white pine trade in the country at large that, while there has been a pronounced absence of an extraordinary railroad requirement a general complaint of dullness at the East, and only a moderate rural requirement in the West, actual sales out of wholesale yards in the great markets have kept down accumulations to a safe limit, while distribution from some, particularly this city, has preatly exceeded sales and shipments last year. The only way to account for this is by the constantly increasing consumption in the large cities. The time has come when the city demand is much more important than that from the farming districts, and the smaller interior places.

Though the manufacturers of white pine have been able to dispose of their p

Chicago Lumber has the following item:

Ludington (Mich.) papers speak of the increasing production at that point of gray elm which is largely shipped to this market. The demand for this wood has grown up rapidly of late, and evidently elm has come into permanent favor with furniture manufacturers. It is a material that is excellently adapted to imitative effects, and a large proportion of the amount used passes muster with buyers for something that if not better is at least more costly. It is a desirable wood to handle and it cuts up without waste, running largely to wide, clear stock. It is light when dry, easily worked and takes a handsome finish, so that as a substitute for finer woods it is most useful and economical. It is a common practice with furniture-makers to use the genuine wood for the prominent parts of a piece and fill in those less exposed to view with close imitations of the more expensive material. The latter is so cleverly matched that half the users never know but it is all genuine and cut from the same tree. Elm serves an important purpose for such uses, and is now recognized as one of the staple supplies for furniture-makers. A steady market for a certain quantity of it is promised, and those who have it available to their mills can easily cut it to good avantage.

The Timberman, of Chicago, has the following on the cargo market:

About an even dozen cargoes per day have been hitched to the docks during the past week. The conditions have not materially changed in regard to prices, but the demand seems to be a triffe more brisk. The yard dealers and commission men were not so much interested in what was received this week as what will be received during the remainder of the season, should matters stand as they do at present in regard to lake freight rates, wages of vessel men, etc. To begin with the seamen's Association has raised the price of labor from $2.50 to $3 per day. This was followed by the vessel owners demanding higher freight rates. In some cases vessel masters have failed to secure the advance and promptly tied up and stripped for the winter. With the season nearing a close and vessels going out of the trade as they have done this week, those who are short on shingles are becoming somewhat alarmed. Some are concerned about lumber that should be delivered yet this fall, but the feeling is by no means general, considering that the reseipts of lumber have been heavy of ate.

The wholesale yard dealers have not been so busy in many weeks as they are at the present time. They are not employed in disbursing but in receiving lumber. The yard docks become more encumbered each day, until some firms have given up attempting to sort the stock, and are satisfied if they can move it back fast enough to allow the vessels dock front on which to unload. * * * * The bullish movement which pervades the entire trade has gained much strength of late in a substantial way, which satisfies all concerned that it is genuine. There are scoffers at home who have no faith in anything the trade attempts in concert, but at the same time the consumers and those wholesalers in other markets who need stock are paying the advanced prices in many instances, and these same scoffing ones are tailing on behind occasionally, when they go out to buy a little common lumber of their neighbors. * * * *

$14.50 fencing as was in the air a month ago, and dealers are looking on one another with a little less distrust, and apparently co-operating with a purpose. Some two or three car-loads of No. 1 fencing was sold one day this week at $15.50 per thousand, to be shipped to Nebraska. This should be ample proof that prices ought to be secured in nearby territory when they are readily obtained in territory which belongs almost exclusively to another market.

GREAT BRITAIN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Timber Trades Journal as follows:

The demand for pine in London is just now, and has been for some time, very sluggish and any violent rise in price may have the effect of checking what little business there is now doing. The coach trade, which is a large factor in the consumption of pine, was never slacker than it is now, and the cabinet trades are not doing much for export, while the piano trade may almost be left out of our calculations. With this state of things looking us in the face, it is well to let the stimulus take a natural tone, which the short supply will, sooner or later, impart to it, than to hurry it on, with a reactionary result. When prices are forced up to an unhealthy pitch a cheaper substitute is sought after, and it was while the pine market was so inflated in 1883 that Sequoia and American white-wood found their way into this market, and in which they have continued making more or less headway ever since. Many who formerly bought pine now keep to the whitewood because it is lower in price.

American Black Walnut.—In this a generally good trade continues to be done, though not so much in logs as in cut stuff. The catalogue of Wednesday's sale includes a large quantity of both logs and lumber, very much of the latter being for sale without reserve.

American Whitewood.—The coming sale also includes a large quantity of logs and lumber, and as stocks of cut stuff are now so reduced, and cannot be imported at present prices owing to the great advance in frieghts, we shall not be surprised if shortly we have to report more firnness in this market.

American Oak.—Of late the sales of board and plank stuff have been upon a large scale. Logs, too, have been selling more freely. We notice in the catalogue of next week's sale some logs are to be sold without reserve, at a minimum of 1s. 8d. per foot, as well as a quantity of lumber for absolute sale.

NAILS.—Business moderate and disappointing, and the market generally quite dull. Supplies, too, seem to be keeping fuller than calculated upon, and this at times leads to more or less uncomfortable pressure to find an outlet with prices influenced accordingly. We quote at $1.8.\text{\text{\text{d}}}1.90 per keg for car lots, and $1.65\text{\text{\text{d}}}2.00 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—The general market has been only fairly active this week, and in many cases there is quite a decided claim for dullness. This how-ever was not unexpected as a natural sequence of ever was not unexpected as a natural sequence of the period and has no special influence, though many operators express some doubts about any important revival of trade again this season. The supply in hand is fair as to quantity and assortment and available at former rates, though considerable irregularity prevails on leads. For Linseed Oil there is demand enough to keep stocks within control and prices steady at 54@55c. for Western, and 58@55½c. for City. Spirits Turpentine has advanced somewhat and rules pretty firm at 45½@46½c. per gallon, according to size of invoice.

TAR AND PITCH .- There has been a rather light, uncertain movement, with no change of importance on values. Stocks are fair and can be reached without difficulty, though holders resort to no pressure. We quote Pitch at $1.25@1.50 per bbl.; Tar at $2.00@2.20, according to quantity, quality and delivery.

MORTGAGES.

Note.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgager, the next that: of the mortgage. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

The "Nightingale" Wood Block Tiling

Over 5,000,000 square feet laid. On ground, on fireproof, rough undressed boards and wooden joists or other floors. In any style, rough enough for a factory or artistic enough for a ball or drawing-room.
Prevents malaria. Each block firmly keyed to substructure by metal keys dove-tailed into under sides of blocks, other extremities of keys embedded in dampproof composition, which prevents dry-rot. Each block keyed independently of its neighbor to substructure.
Composition is forced into groves traversing sides of blocks binding them to each other and foundation.
Adopted extensively for many years in places where tiles, parquet, marble, etc., are often laid. Advantages being its thorough solidity, immovability, noiselessness and warmth.

HILL'S PATENT INSIDE SLIDING BLINDS.

These blinds require no hinges, all trimmings are supplied. They do not interfere with curtains or window ornaments, and are so constructed that light and air can be admitted from any part of the window. Being easily and rapidly operated they neither rattle nor get out of order. They economize space by doing away with pockets and the necessity of furring out, and can be removed and replaced instantly without even drawing a screw. They require no special frame as they can be attached with equal facility to any window. For workman ship or style these Blinds are not excelled by any in the market.

Call and see them or send for catalogue. Mention "Record and Guide."

Also Improved English and American "Veretian Blinds" in any desired wood heautifully finished.
