Accompanying this number of The Record and Guide will be found a sixteen page supplement, giving an illustrated and descriptive account of the progress and present condition of the west side. Every purchaser of the paper should see that he is supplied with the same.

Just as the average operator had firmly made up his mind that it was impossible for the stock market to turn-and, by the way, the market always waits for the average operator to reach this conclusion—it surprised everybody by doing the very thing which everybody had been predicting it would not do-it did turn. The next problem is, will this strength continue? The first intimation of a turn of affairs came from the Southern stocks and, curiously enough, Richmond Terminal furnished the lever. There is no reason why the Southern stocks should not continue to be in the lead at advancing prices. The greatest crop of cotton for years is being gathered and sold at extremely satisfactory figuers. Not only this, but the South has raised more corn this year than ever before, so that the South will keep her money to an extent not ordinarily the case. Moreover, such is the general prosperity of this section of the country, so rapidly are its manufactures increasing and its mines being developed, that it is doubtful whether there could be a better region in which to make investments. And this is particularly the case with railroad securities, because the railway building has not been so much overdone in that region as elsewhere. It would not be surprising if in the future the Southern securities would lead what advance there is in the market. The advance, however, has not been and will not be confined to Southern securities. Lake Shore promises a 7 per cent. dividend on its common stock and has earned 12 per cent. on both preferred and common. If the dividend is declared it will make a pretty little Christmas present for the market—one which, perhaps, will find a parallel in kindred actions by the other Vanderbilt companies. This much is certain, we have had an advance and should have a still larger one. Business in some directions is not all that it might be, but there is nothing to justify a decline.

The Committee on Revising the Building Law, consisting of the members of the Board of Examiners, including Superintendent Brady of the Bureau of Buildings in the Fire Department, assisted by Mr. Findley the attorney to the department, and Chief Clerk Shields, the latter acting as secretary to the committee, are holding tri-weekly meetings, Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons, in the rooms of the Fire Underwriters, in the Mutual Life Insurance Company's building on Nassau street. A public invitation has been extended to all persons who have suggestions to make to submit the same in writing, or to appear in person and be heard between the hours of three and four o'clock on the days stated, during the present month of November. Special invitations have also been extended to ex-Superintendents Esterbrook and D'Oench. and to a number of architects and builders whose experience and knowledge qualify them to make valuable suggestions. tectural League and some other societies have appointed certain of their members to appear before the committee. Thus far only a few amendments have been agreed upon, and these not important ones, although quite important ones have been under consideration. The committee has deemed it the wiser plan to first hear as far as possible the wishes of the public before adopting ideas of their own. We need hardly repeat what we have said before in these columns, that it is the duty of all persons interested in building operations to aid the committee with all the suggestions that can be offered towards making the law complete, clear, and free from requirements that may work hardships to individuals or classes of men. The committee are not paid for the arduous labor involved in the work of revision, and they deserve all the help that an appreciative public can extend.

During the past week a letter was written to the Mayor by Wilson Godfrey, who, as he himself declares, has been canvassing the lumber trade for subscriptions for the guarantee fund. Until this week he has met with good success, but it seems that lately he has been hampered by a "so-called Committee of the Arts and Industries of the Building Trades." Mr. Godfrey is evidently a mildtempered man, but he became annoyed at the way his movements have been shackled by this so-called committee. Hence he writes to the Mayor and accuses these gentlemen of cooking their fish before digging the bait to catch them. We very much fear that Mr. Godfrey has been r little hasty. Could he not have done this so-called committee the justice to communicate with them and learn their intentions, instead of writing an unnecessary and unjust letter to the Mayor? Did Mr. Godfrey find anything in the temper or in the resolutions of the meeting which appointed this so-called committee antagonistic to the general committee? Was not that meeting addressed by Roswell P. Flower, who certainly does not lack zeal in furthering the interests of the Fair? Did not the resolution that was passed explicitly state that the committee of nine and the sub-committees of three were to confer with the Finance and Site Committees of the World's Fair in respect to the adoption of measures best calculated to give us a good Exposition and a good building exhibit? We think if Mr. Godfrey had looked into these matters as seriously as he would have solicited a subscription, he would have addressed himself to the committee instead of to the Mayor, and learned from them how unjust were his accusations. As a matter of fact the "so-called committee" has no fund, and as yet has been soliciting no subscriptions. It exists for the purpose of co-operating with every true friend of the Fair and of hindering nobody. That real estate men and builders are still subscribing is sufficiently proved by the fact that up to the closing hour yesterday $37,960 was contributed, inclusive of $25,000 by W. W.

But enough of Mr. Godfrey. The brewing industry is the first to follow the example of the builders and organize. By the munificence of their subscription they have practically assured the completion of the guarantee fund. In time other trades will see the advantage of doing the same, for it is in this way, and in this way only, that the General Committee can be effectively aided, and the various special industries can see that their money is expended in the way that will best make the Exhibition at once profitable and instructive. Among these special interests there is none more important and more to be benefited by the Fair than the building trade. There is none that should subscribe more liberally or work more energetically for the success of the project. The meeting held last week gave every evidence of widespread interest, both in the Fair in general and in the particular exhibit of the building trade.

The subscription of the brewers came very opportunely, for most people were beginning to be discouraged at the feeble striving the fund was making to reach the necessary $5,000,000. It probably assures the ultimate completion of the amount. Meanwhile it is noticeable that in reality there was but little public opinion behind the newspaper consecration of the park. The fund did not increase a whit more rapidly after the sacred spot was preserved. A logical sequence of the frenzied newspaper talk would be a proposition to appoint a day of thanksgiving for the happy defeat of the vandals. The Evening Post, having nothing more to object to in the policy of the committee, returns once again to personalities, adopting the good old policy of "abusing the plaintiff's attorney." The obvious implication is that the paper has "no case." There seems to be a tendency in the later Exposition editorials to abuse the rich men of the city for not responding more generally; but considering that all alike, rich and poor, are sinking alike into a state of indifference, and considering that whatever has been done so far has been done by rich men, the latter might be spared the abuse.

It seems to be very generally felt that Mayor Grant did an excellent stroke of business in getting the managers of the Broadway surface railroad to guarantee to the city the payment of $150,000 per annum, besides taxes and licenses, in return for permission to change its motive power from animal to cable. No doubt it was a good bargain compared to what the other companies are paying, but that this small sum should be considered satisfactory, in return for the facilities surrendered, is a significant commentary on the small value which is put on our street franchises by the municipal authorities. The fault does not lie with the present Sinking Fund Commissioners, for the company already owns the franchise. Probably they got as much out of the company as was possible in return merely for a permission to change the motive power, although the latter accepted the terms with such marvelous readiness that possibly a still larger sum might have been obtained. At the same time, inasmuch as the franchise is by far the most valuable possession of the company, and inasmuch as the prompt acceptance of the terms shows that with the change of motive power a gross income of some $3,000,000 per annum is not unexpected by the managers of the company, it would seem $150,000 in addition to the taxes is a sum ridiculously small for the privilege. If the laying of a few miles of track and the purchase of cars and a cable plant were the only expenses that needed to be provided for by the capitalization, such is the value of the franchise that the company would earn enough in one year to pay a fifty per cent. dividend. For the very reason that the franchise is so valuable, a corporation that wished it should be made to pay at least 25 per cent. of its gross earnings. Not long since Comptroller Myers made the statement that he could pay all city expenses from the income from such franchises, the dock rent, and other similar items. This was a daring statement, but doubtless he could make it good, if they were sold at their true value.

The Sun, apropos of the intention of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company largely to increase their terminal facilities in Jersey City, advises that corporation to adopt the bolder plan of either tunneling or bridging the Hudson River and establishing a terminus on this side. Unfortunately there seems to be but little probability that the Pennsylvania Company will take this advice. They seem to be directing their attention towards improving their present facilities, so that New York will not have the compensation for the loss of residence population due to her own bad facilities which she might have had if the Pennsylvania Company decided to cross the river. With West street bridged, with a more prompt, a more frequent and a more commodious ferry service, the perils and discomforts of a trip across the Hudson River may be very much lessened. Even now the service of this corporation is better than that of any other round about the city. At the same time it is susceptible of improvement, and if the improvement is made it will be but an additional proof of the care with which this well-managed company protects the advantages which it already posseses over its competitors. The fact is becoming more apparent every day that the people doing business in New York are ceasing to live here, consequently the railroad which gives the best local service is creating for itself a traffic which can scarce be equalled in value anywhere in the world. On the one hand, the Pennsylvania, and to a less extent the Jersey Central, are giving business men an excellent opportunity to get out of New York; on the other hand, the Brooklyn Bridge Commissioners are providing accommodations to get out in the other direction. Meanwhile what is New York doing to protect herself and extend her present transit facilities? It is not a difficult question to answer.

It is obligatory, as is well known, that a company in Great Britain before it is allowed to build a railroad must first prove to a Parliamentary commission that the road is necessary. The expense thus caused to a corporation in employing counsel, collecting figures, and even, as is often hinted, in purchasing the commission, is a severe drain upon the resources of a company, and has done much to increase the aggregate capitalization of the British railroad system. This is undoubtedly so. But how much greater and much more costly are the evils of the unrestricted building of railroad lines, which permits any combination of capitalists to swindle investors and blackmail competing lines at its own sweet will. The figures tell the story plainly enough. Of the total capital invested in British railroads, only 7 per cent. failed to receive interest or dividend in 1888, and this included companies whose lines were in the course of construction, whereas 21.69 per cent. of the bonds and 61.44 of the stock of the railroads of this country failed to make any return on the investment. It does not affect the question to point out the larger population to the square mile in Great Britain. It still remains true that we have more railroad tracks than our business requires: that company after company has to submit to re-organization and a continually increased indebtedness. On the other hand, the British railroads are not ruined by competition and cut rates; they are not compelled to reorganize whenever a bad year comes, and this in spite of the fact that they are more heavily capitalized than any other system on earth.

The position of silver in the Londen market has of late improved steadily and rapidly. It sells now at 44 pence per ounce, which is nearly two pence per ounce above its quoted price of two months ago. A number of causes have contributed to this result. A large part of the decline in the price of the metal was due to the decreased demand from India. In the middle of this century that country occupied the anomalous condition of being a large exporter, but a small importer of commodities. Balances were paid by the shipment of silver bullion, which the people of India can apparently absorb to an unlimited extent. It was this peculiarity of the Hindoos that enabled France, in the time of Napoleon, when gold was cheap, to convert an enormous quantity of silver into gold coinage and ship the former to the East. More lately, however, India went into debt to England for railroads, irrigation works and other improvements, the annual interest payment on which considerably decreased that country's demand for silver. This cause, co-operating with Germany's demonetization of that metal and the limitation of coinage by the Latin Union, brought about the low prices which so long prevailed. Recently, however, the demand for silver from India has been exceptionally large, due possibly to the increased prices its exports have brought in the markets of Europe. During the ten completed months of 1889 the export of the metal from London to India was £1,672,682 more than in the corresponding months of 1888. In addition there has been an increased demand for the metal in England and on the Continent for the purpose of subsidiary coinage. This augmented demand has been supplied by this country, for we have already exported this year $18,000,000 in silver, a great increase over last year's shipments. If times continue good abroad there is no reason why this advance should not continue.

Political Aspects of Local Taxation.

The disciples of Henry George are prosecuting a cart-tail campaign in this and neighboring cities, and are provoking a good deal of tenement house applause. It is not likely that we shall ever see the single tax as we know it enforced; but surely we will deserve no better fate unless we prove ourselves able to devise and put in operation more rational methods of taxation than those now in use. In a recent magazine article a Georgeite urges that the matter of taxing land to its full rent value is a detail at best, and the discussion of it may be very well postponed. All that he at present urges is the imposition of the single tax. Certainly this is all his people need ask, for with land-owners on one side paying all the taxes, and the rest of the community on the other enjoying their expenditure, the entire absorption of economic rent would not be long delayed. Land can never pay taxes; it is the land-owners that must pay them. No surer way can be found of engendering class hatreds and class legislation than to impose on one class of persons all the burdens of government. Fiscal problems cannot be isolated from political and social ones.

As an addition to Adam Smith's much quoted canons of taxation we suggest the following: Under democratic governments taxation, and especially local taxation, should be so imposed that every citizen may bear part of the burden, and that he may know that he bears it. The last clause is necessary in order to provide against such anomalies as those exhibited in connection with our present national tax system. The laboring classes, after listening to interminable discussions of the subject, are unable to decide whether they are benefited or burdened by them. The result is that our national politicians are not rebuked when they squander the revenues in unearned pensions, or in impossible improvements of streams barely navigable for cat fish.

The first part of the suggested rule of taxation is designed to protect society quite as much from the propertied as from the unpropertied classes. Municipal extravagance has been winked at or furthered quite as often by those who felt themselves able to evade taxation as by those who were not liable to it because having no property. The machinations of capitalists, or even of real estate owners, are responsible for as much political chicane and municipal extravagance as the envy and greed of the poor. If taxes can be so levied that their incidence is at once certain and obvious a useful check will be placed upon useless expenditures.

It may be urged that our city governments are often too parsimonious rather than too extravagant, needed improvements are not made and waste results from stinginess. Certainly no system of taxation ought to be expected to confer business sense upon those that have it not; but the same influences that tend to make an individual thrifty may be trusted to produce a like effect in municipal affairs.

A land tax must be the largest item in any system of local taxation, and if the owners of land could be freed from State taxation they might very properly bear a large share of the municipal burdens. All the revenue needed for State purposes could certainly be obtained by an income tax, a large portion of which could be readily collected through the corporations that earn the incomes. This tax should be collected by and for the States in order partially to prevent tax dodging by a sham residence in the country.

In lieu of the now abortive and mischievous tax on personalty scientific writers have advocated for twenty years and more a tax on the annual rental value of the house that a man occupies. This is the basis of the English "poor rate," which practice has shown to be such an equitable tax that a mass of local expenses have been from time to time attached to it. Such a tax if carefully imposed may reach almost every citizen of a municipality and remind him of his interest in good government. In English cities, while the tax on low rentals is scarcely more than nominal, and is hard to levy and collect, yet the fact that the lists of voters for municipal elections are made up from the tax lists, punishes the successful tay dodger with disfranchisement. With the larger rents dodging obviously impossible.

Besides the land and rent tax, licenses on the liquor traffic may yield a very considerable revenue if the city will condescend to accept it, and a system of taxing the monopolies of local service; a way both just and profitable may be devised whenever the domnant influence of private corporations in municipal politics can controlled. If the city itself managed these semi-public undertakings it would thereby secure a source of revenue that would vary in its fruitfulness with the variations in the administrative skill or awkwardness of the city government; or that might be made to vary as facilities for business or abundant revenue seemed most important.

For the Great Building Exhibit.

IMPORTANT MEETING AT THE REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE.

Since the inauguration of the movement for a World's Fair in this city no more important meeting has been held than that which met at the Real Estate Exchange on Tuesday afternoon, representing the arts and industries connected with the building trades. The hall was well filled with gentlemen who represented firms of importance in the community, some of them employing hundreds of workmen. They also represented literally hundreds of millions of capital invested in real estate, building, and the numerous manufactures and industries allied to the building trades. It was impossible to secure the names of all those present, but among them were Cornelius J. O'Reilly, Charles Buck, James M. Varnum, Geo. S. Lespinasse, S. F. Jayne, E. A. Cruikshank, F. Seagrist Jr., James D. Lynch, Richard V. Harnett, Thomas Graham, A. J. Bloor, B. S. Levy, R. C. Fisher, Geo. N. Williams, Chas. Buck, Geo. H. Scott, A. K. Murphy, Heim & Burt, P. A. Nebeling, Gustav Staiger, H. M. Smith & Son, Robert L. Pirsson (Pirsson & Renwick), Aloha Vivarttas, W. H. Blackwell, Walter Stabler, Captain S. Wise, Patrick Hartt, Stent & Lang, Holmes Bros., Geo. N. Manchester, Richard Deeves, Horace Winans, T. Hugh Boorman, Dale Tile Mfg. Co., C. W. Smith, Henry Keasbey, Radley & Greenough, Hiram Snyder, Cyrus L. W. Eidlitz, and about two hundred others.

The meeting was formally opened by E. A. Cruikshank, president of the Real Estate Exchange, who, with a few well-chosen words in favor of the object of the meeting, called James M. Varnum to the chair.

Col. Varnum, who was received with applause, said: "This is one of the most sensible, practical and intelligent movements which has been insti-tuted in connection with the World's Fair. I was present at the organization of the Real Estate Exchange, and real estate men will recognize the wisdom of having formed this Exchange. They should now even more quickly, gladly and earnestly contribute to the great building in which the building trades and kindred industries could exhibit their work to the world." After quoting John Claffin's letter, in which he asked how it could be expected that those who would gain little by the Fair should contribute when those who would gain most did not contribute, and referring to the apathy of the great real estate owners, Mr. Varnum continued: "We want to try to weld in one homogeneous body the min connected with every art and industry in building-the architect who draws the plans, the mason who builds the walls, the men who put on the mortar, those who supply the iron, the terra cotta and the tiling, and those who furnish the decorations, the glass and the furniture, as well as those who decorate the interior. We mean business, and we intend to act without delay. (Applause.) The proposed building will show the magnitude of the real estate interests of New York; the successive progress of its houses and business buildings from beginning to end. You don't want your tiles and stained glass and your numerous other exhibits mingled up miscellaneously with exhibits of a totally different character. You want the architects and others, who wish to see your improvements and your goods, to be able to come to one building and see them all grouped in their proper places, instead of having to hunt all over the Exhibition for them. You also went the building to be erected so that it will endure not only as a remembrance of the World's Fair, but as a monument of American skill and American industry. Its foundations should be built of the marbles, granites and other stones of our native land; the iron, tile and woodwork should be turned out by our own industries, and every article possible should be shown, including the light that Edison has brought down to us from Heaven." (Applause)

On motion H. W. Desmond was then appointed secretary.

Congressman Roswell P. Flower, who was called by the chairman, said: "I am glad to see so many far-sighted business men in this Exchange to-day. When you combine the industries of New York City in one grand whole, you combine six thousand millions of capital. One of the most important of these is the building industry, and one of the grandest ideas connected with this Fair is that of the Building Exhibit for which you have met this afternoon. We want to have all our goods besides those of foreign nations. We want to compare ourselves with them. Look at our grand buildings on Wall street and Broadway. We want to show foreigners what we can do. I am in favor of New York for the Fair, not because I will gain any thing by it, but because I am a New Yorker. A hundred years from now I promise to vote for Chicago." (Laughter and applause).

A number of letters were here read from firms unable to be present or A number of letters were here read from firms unable to be present or represented. Among these were J. C. Cady & Co., the architects; Heim & Burt, the New York Lumber Trade Journal, Ogden & Co., Geo. Kramer Thompson, Geo. B. Post, Gen'l Jas. S. Negley, P. H. Mahony, Allen & Co., A. F. Schwannecke & Co., Wm. H. Piper, N. Le Brun & Sons, Henry B. Van Benschoten, Otis Bros. & Co., R. W. Kane & Co., J. W. Fielder, Abraham Steers, E. P. Walling, Wm. H. Day and Chomas C. Walsh

Thomas C. Walsh.

The chairman then said: "This is a meeting called for business and I therefore move the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, This meeting is heartily in favor of the effort making to secure the Exposition of 1892 for New York City, and it indorses the action that has been taken so far by the committees into whose hands the matters were put by his Honor Mayor Grant; and WHEREAS, This meeting is strongly of the opinion that the arts and industries connected with the building trade should be represented at the forthcoming Exposition in a manner commensurate to their importance and wealth, and believing that it cannot be done better than by erecting a building hall that shall be permanent, and wherein the building exhibits may be classified and propersy displayed; therefore be it

Resolved, That the chairman of this meeting appoint at once a committee of nine, whose duty it shall be to appoint three sub-committees of three each, one on finance to confer with the World's Fair Finance Committee about obtaining the necessary money by subscription from the trades concerned for erecting a building hall; one on building to confer with the proper authorities to determine the character, dimensions, etc., of the edifice to be erected, and one on site to confer at the proper time with the proper authorities to secure a site for the building hall.

Resolved, That the committee of nine and the three sub-committees are to form one general committee to obtain plans for the building hall by open competition upon terms approved by the American Institute of Architects, and to make whatever arrangements may be necessary for the construction of the aforesaid hall.

The resolutions were then unanimously adopted, and the chairman appointed the following gentlemen on the committee of nine: The President of the Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange, the President of the Building Material Exchange, the President of the Real Estate Exchange, the President of the American Institute of Architects, the President of the Real Estate Owners' and Builders' Association, and Cyrus Clark, Hiram Snyder, R. C. Fisher and Roswell P. Flower.

On the motion of Geo. S. Lespinasse the meeting adjourned.

The sub-committees and the Committee of Nine will meet at once to take further action in the matter.

Re-organization of the Brooklyn Real Estate Exchange.

A special meeting of the directors of the "Brooklyn Real Estate Exchange and Auction Room (Limited)," was held at No. 30 Court street, Monday evening last. Messrs. Wyckoff, Johnson Jr., Ferry, Newkirk, Lovett, Tate and Haviland being present. At this meeting it was decided to postpone action toward establishing permanent headquarters for the Exchange until after the election for directors in December. named members, and others of the board, have expressed a willingness to surrender entire control and to join with other stockholders in giving new men such a representation in the board as shall enable the new element to control the organization.

It was announced at this meeting that several capitalists and leading brokers were ready to unite if such a re-organization could be effected. The store No. 393 Fulton street was thereupon designated as the temporary headquarters of the Exchange, and the secretary was ordered to give notice of the annual election to be held December 9th,

The McClellan Anti-Siphon Trap Vent.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Dr. Geo. W. Hosmer, one of the sanitary inspectors of the New York Board of Health, under the novel title of "The Hidden River," in Harper's Weekly of the 2d inst., discusses at considerable length the subject of sewer construction, house drainage, traps and trap ventilation. latter subject he holds the following language in regard to the McClellan anti-siphon trap vent.

"The recently introduced McClellan trap vent produces an automatic ventilation. Each trap is provided with a ventilating pipe the opening of which is near the trap, and which is closed by a cap, the edges of which are set in mercury. In the equilibrium of atmospheric pressure the cap remains in place; but if a vacuum is produced in the pipe then the pressure of the atmosphere outside the pipe lifts the cap, the air rushes in and prevents siphonage; and the equilibrium being thus restored, the cap drops into place again. If this trap vent shall prove to be as good in practice as it appears to be in theory it will revolutionize the ventilation of traps, and s live some other problems."

If one is to judge from the comments and opinions current among sanitary authorities it is evident that this device is destined in the near future to revolutionize the method of trap seal protection.

We learn that it has been substituted for the orthodox method of pipe ventilation in a number of new buildings (public and private) in this city during the past year. Among them may be mentioned a block of five private houses on the south side of 74th street, between 9th and 10th avenues, and the new Armory building of the Eighth Regiment N. G., on Park avenue and 94th street, now about finished.

The indorsement of this device by such eminent authorities on sanitary engineering and plumbing as Col. Geo. E. Waring, Mr. Jas. C. Bayles, late president of the New York Board of Health; John M. Hazen, Inspector of Buildings, Minneapolis, Minn.; Mr. Carroll Phillips, Bassett, Col.; Geo. D. Scott, Messrs. Edw. Murphy, R. Napier Anderson, Dr. A. N. Bell and others, which appear in another department of this paper, seem to leave no question as to the merit of this device and the important part it is destined to play in the plumbing of the future.

Two Handsome Corners to be Sold.

A sale of unusual interest will take place on the Real Estate Exchange on Thursday next, the 21st inst. It comprises the St. Charles apartment house on the northwest corner of 72d street and 9th avenue, and a new five-story hotel on the southwest corner of 3d avenue and 34th street. The St. Charles sale will be an interesting one, as it is the first time a building of this character has been offered for sale at auction. lt is a six-story building, the first floor of which is leased by the Hudson River Bank, exclusive of several stores; the second floor is used for offices, and the four floors above are rented as first-class apartments, the whole yielding a rental, it is said, of $20,000 per annum. The 3d avenue property is a modern building, recently elected, and is used for store purposes on the first floor and as a hotel above. Adrian H. Muller & Co. will be

The Union Trust Company's New Building.

ONE OF THE HANDSOMEST ON BROADWAY.

The number of high and costly office structures south of the City Hall is increasing year by year. Vandal or no vandal, the old buildings in which our fathers toiled and grew rich have been torn down one by one, until scarcely a remnant of them remains. Newer buildings, more attrac. tive to the eye, more imposing in dimension and more productive of income, have taken their place, until a few years hence not a vestige will remain of an old building on Broadway, within a mile north of the Battery, which the eyes of our fathers will recognize.

One of the latest of the new structures to make its appearance on one of the old sites is that which has for some time been in course of erection for the Union Trust Company at Nos. 78 to 82 Broadway, near Wall street. Its gradual progress skywards has been watched with interest by the crowds which passed it by day after day, and it is now nearly up to the roof. It is to be eight stories high, exclusive of a basement, ground floor, banking floor and roof story-in all, practically twelve floors. It will be 196 feet high from the level of the curb on Broadway and 206 feet high on New street. The frontage is 72.31/2 feet on the former and 77 feet on the latter, while the average depth is 106½ feet. The building has one distinguishing feature. Although not on a corner it has two frontages, both of which are equally valuable; for the one is on Broadway, the greatest thoroughfare in the city, while the other is just opposite the Stock Exchange, the most important centre of the metro-polis. The tenants on the Broadway side will have the advantage of nearness to the Stock Exchange, while those on the New street side will be within hailing distance of Broadway. The building will exceptionally have good light, even on the lower floors, for the Stock Exchange very low on the New street side, thus offering no impediment to the full light on that street above the second story, while on the Broadway side the building fronts Trinity Churchyard, which will give it perpetual open light from the west. All this makes the offices unusually attractive, and therefore so much more valuable for renting There is also to be an open court, 20x50 in size, which will extend from a skylight over the banking room, referred to below, to the top floor, thus giving direct sunlight and ventilation to all the inner offices.

The Broadway front of the building is of granite, considerable iron also being used. The New street front is to be of buff brick and terra cotta. The construction is of a fire-proof character throughout, and there will be the ground, amounts to close on $1,800,000.

practically nothing in the building to burn, except it be the furniture and possibly the doors and trimmings. The floor construction is of steel beams. while the supporting columns are of wrought iron, encased with burnt clay coverings, thus making them absolutely fire-proof. The staircases are to be of ornamental wrought and cast iron, with marble and slate treads, The halls and toilet rooms are to have tile floors, while the wainscotings of the latter are also to be in tile. The entrance halls are to be wainscoted in

THE UNION TRUST COMPANY'S BUILDING.

The building is to be heated by steam throughout, and is to have three Otis elevators, there being an elevator car arranged to carry safes to the upper floors. The plumbing is to be of an elaborate and highly sanitary character, so President King says, and the ventilation to every room will be unsurpassed, owing to the arrangements of the plan.

Some of the general features include mail-chutes with letter-drops on each floor; electric lights, supplied from special plant in the building, and other modern conveniences.

The most important floor in the building, the "Banking Floor, will be occupied by the company. It is to be 28½ feet in height, with a gallery 141/2 feet high, the room being covered with a skylight. The eight floors and the roof story vary in height from 12 to 131/2 feet, and will contain single offices and suites. plans of these are now in the hands of the agents, Messrs. E. A. Cruikshank & Co., and show that there are about eighteen rooms per floor, five on each of the two fronts and eight on the open court.

The price paid by the Union Trust Company for the property was $1,175,-000. The two buildings which were then on the site were torn down, and the present magnificent building, the cost of which is estimated at $600,000, was erected in its place. It is to be ready for occupancy by May 1 next, and is already partly rented. When the building is finally completed it will certainly be one of the handsomest ornaments to the lower part of Broadway. Real Estate Department.

Business has been more active this week than for some time past. The sales include down-town offices and business parcels, dwellings in the residential districts and vacant lots for improvement, as is shown by our "Gossip." The list given, however, does not embrace all the transactions closed, for we hear of several important ones completed and under way which cannot be mentioned this week. Taken altogether there is a better feeling and continued activity is looked for. The auction market has been fair, as the daily summary which follows shows.

There was very little business completed Monday on 'Change, although the announcements were fairly numerous. Three of the five sales bulletined were adjourned, and only two carried out. Considerable competition was developed by the offering of a three-story dwelling with store at No. 205 Bleecker street, and extending to Minetta street, which was finally secured by Ottinger Brothers at $18,200. Messrs. Ottinger own the adjoining plot on the corner, hence their anxiety to secure No. 205.

On Tuesday there was a great crowd at the Exchange, called together by announcements both numerous and important. The Countess H. De Moltke-Huitfeldt's sale of the block between 121st and 122d streets, Manhattan and St. Nicholas avenues, was particularly well attended. Nearly all the building loan operators were present, and several ladies were also in the crowd. The lower half of the block was sold for a total of $103,500, and the balance was not offered. Taken altogether fair prices were realized; the street lots were sold best, and the inside lots on Manhattan avenue went cheap. In May, 1886, at an auction of the Hutton estate, the twenty-six lots shown on the catalogue of sale brought $151,450, and considering that fourteen of them brought $103,500 on Tuesday it must be acknowledged that prices have advanced materially. Only one of the building loan dealers became a purchaser, viz., Newman Cowen. He secured four lots on Manhattan avenue for $32,650, although closely pressed by Oppenheimer & Metzger for the corner lot, which brought $11,650. Messrs. James J. Coogan, Jewett H. Shafer, J. W. Teets, Morris Steinhardt and Jacob Korn were noticed in the crowd which surrounded Auctioneer Harnett's stand. A partition sale of No. 100 6th avenue, near 8th street, was also well attended, and the bidding, which was started at $15,000, was rapidly advanced by about a dozen bidders until $30,600 was reached, at which figure John W. Theix was the buyer. There is a threestory brick store and dwelling on the lot, which is only 20x77.4 in size. contest for a plot of two lots with brick building, on 24th street, close to 8th avenue, resulted in their sale to Morris Steinhardt at $37,750. hereabouts are in demand for building purposes. The dwelling No. 412 East 116th street was not offered, having been previously disposed of for $10,000 at private sale to the tenant. Three lots on the south side of 81st street, 125 feet east of 10th avenue, were withdrawn, having been sold at private contract to James Rufus Smith.

On Wednesday there was a large business transacted at the Exchange, but with a single exception the offerings were quite unimportant. There were several bidders for the five-story store No. 28 Reade street, size 25x 77.8, and although started at $40,000, the advances were so rapid that $65,000 was soon reached, and the property sold to W. L. Suydam. The annual rental is $4,800.

The sales on Thursday were with very few exceptions unimportant. There was a very large crowd present, including many ladies, and as they remained after the regular sales were over, it was shown that the Hunt estate sale of Brooklyn lots, which was commenced at 12.30 o'clock, was the card which brought them together. In the way of city realty a four-story dwelling on West 14th street, No. 133, was the most important parcel offered. It was a Court sale in partition and Joel B. Wolfe, a party in interest, became the buyer at $30,500. This property was sold in January, 1856, at $23,000 to Udolpho Wolfe.

The Hunt estate sale was a great success, and Auctioneer Peter F. Meyer disposed of 597 lots for a total of $261,965. Among the largest buyers were James Cassin, C. J. O'Brien, E. J. Kelly, John J. Depp, John F. James, J. M. Kaufman, C. M. Detlefsen, Oliver E. Edwards, H. Ahrens and Geo. W. Wettje. The prices realized are given in the regular column.

Yesterday was a dull day on 'Change. Three sales were announced, all foreclosures, and of these two were postponed.

It is a six-story building, built by Chas. Buek & Co., with two floors of stores and offices, the corner being occupied by a bank. This sale will be watched with interest, as it is the first property of the kind on the west side ever offered at auction. The other parcel to be sold is that at Nos. 501 and 503 3d avenue on the southwest corner of 3d avenue and 34th street, and comprises a new five-story store and hotel building. Fred. Ebeling has the plans for extensive alterations to the building No. 153 Clinton street, and the addition of a 22-foot extension for Meyer Cohen at a cost of $8,000.

James W. Ramsey, the Harlem builder, is in financial difficulties. Over $16,000 worth of mechanics' liens have been filed against him within a short period. His liabilities are about $45,000, while his unencumbered assests are only nominal. A meeting of his creditors was held quietly a day or two ago, but it is understood no definite arrangements were made.

Mr. Ramsey is now building four flat houses on 134th street, west of 8th avenue, and it is against these that the liens have been filed. For some time back Ramsey has been raising money on notes-borrowing from Peter to pay Paul. Among his creditors are Walter Scott, decorator and paper dealer; Abraham Steers, lumberman, and the Mount Morris Bank. Mr. Ramsey recently built on 103d street, between 9th and 10th avenues. Formerly he was a prominent builder of Newark, N. J. He came to this city to superintend the erection of the "Osborne" apartment house on the northwest corner of 7th avenue and 57th street.

Can this be true? A reporter of THE RECORD AND GUIDE was informed that the property on the east side of Park avenue, between 43d and 44th streets, where the machine shops of the New York Central Railroad partly stand, is to be vacated, and that the railroad is to move its locomotives to its depot at 138th street. He was also told that the fee of the property belongs to the Goelet estate, who intend to build a hotel on the site when the shops are removed. Inquiry at the office of the Goelet estate yesterday failed to elicit a substantiation of this report, though a representative of the estate, who declined to talk, would not positively deny that there was something to the rumor.

Out of Town.

JERSEY CITY, N. J.-Rose & Stone have plans for alterations to be made in the First Presbyterian Church, on Jersey City Heights, the walls of the present edifice to remain intact. A new tower will be built of brick and stone, the roof changed and the church re-decorated. Cost, $40,000.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

[For Prices see pages IX., X., XI. and XII.]

BRICKS.-In all essential particulars the market for Common Hards has been much the same as last week. Demand ran comparatively moderate and cautious, the supply was full enough to be at times a little excessive, and prices have eased up somewhat more, especially on the medium and lower grades where buyers naturally found it the easiest matter to insist upon allowances. The weather has proven a considerable factor in curtailing the volume of business, rains interfering with a great deal of work, and no one caring apparently to invest in supplies they could not use to immediate advantage, dealers it is said storing but little, and as for some time past only an odd cargo now and then that from its extra desirable character was worthy ofputting away against the probabilities of the future. Indeed, there is what seems to be a considerable amount of indifference regarding the accumulation of supplies, which, if adhered to, may place dealers at a disadvantage should this happen to be a year of early-closing navigation. Even with the river open, however, there is reason to expect a falling off in receipts within a few weeks for reasons already explained; and with that in view, commission men do not allow themselves to become much demoralized or inclined to grant concessions further than may be necessary to move immediate surplus cargoes. Manufacturers have kept on shipping since our iast, as it was expected they would, but, it is understood, are commencing to grumble somewhat about returns, and this may lead to more careful forwarding as their stocks work down into more shapely proportions. Pales meet with usual proportionate demand and remain steady at former basis of valuation, with no great amount of stock in first hand accumulating.

CEMENT.—It appears to be a pretty good market cautious, the supply was full enough to be at times a CEMENT.-It appears to be a pretty good market all around and reports are cheerful. Domestic grades have a full, and in some cases quite hurried demand, especially where buyers are anxious to secure their especially where buyers are anxious to secure their pet brands, and between the local and shipping orders most leading manufacturers have about all they can attend to. The same general conditions prevail on foreign stock, the heavy run of arrivals of last month having been succeeded by a much lessened quantity thus far, but better than all by a large and broadened demand that is taking stock away about as fast as it can be landed and handled, with several of the leading importers asserting that they have now in hand a greater number of orders than it seems likely will be filled before the close of navigation. A considerable proportion of the stock is going to the Westward, but the nearby and local trade wants its usual proportion.

LATH.—There is just a faint evidence of disappointment in some of the comments upon the market this week, owing to the absence of further actual gain The market, however, has really held its own in first-rate form, and not only have the current arrivals been placed about as quickly as tendered, but buyers were again found willing to enter upon engagements of stock afloat, more especially where there was any assurance of really good quality. The present consumption is fair, and be ide that dealers are pretty much all willing to lay away a little stock at about current cost.

LIME.—In asking a receiver about the condition of LIME.—In asking a receiver about the condition of the general market he dropped into slang and called it a "chestnut." That seems to cover the situation pretty well, however, as there is practically nothing new since our last, except a larger arrival from the Eastward, which met a demand sufficiently broad and prompt to exhaust the supply without difficulty, and of course the range of price is considered fixed until next June.

LUMBER.-A very good general distribution is taking place, probably somewhat fuller if anything in some sections of the city with about the usual average assortment required to meet the calls of buyers, a little more st ff for trim having been among the latest additions. For bu k or wholesale parcels, however, there is an indication of shrinkage, partly because the season has worked so far along that shipments and deliveries from many points are now a matter of some doubt, and partly because a great many dealers have about secured their quota of certain grades and no longer feel an inclination to negotiate. Some descriptions, however, such as desirable spruce and hemlock and really first-class selections of hardwoods are calculated upon to retain attention whenever they can be tendered without adding materially to the present line of cost. From pretty much all primary points the advices indicate increasing firmness, but no more if as much as ordinarily noticeable at this season. Present indications convey the impression of full winter stock at most Western depots.

Eastern Spruce is holding up well to the good general form predicted for it and there is little or no complaint from the selling side except the apparent impossibility of getting forward all the stock that might be placed. It is said that even many of the latest arrivals went directly into consumption, some on waiting jobbers, and receivers claim they can pick out numerous yards in this and adjoining clies where the accumulation and assortment, still fails anything like a showing that would seem necessary to carry dealers through the winter. Such features coupled with a natural tendency toward a shrinkage of production and increased cost of transportation would appear to build up the main line of advantage upon the seller's side, against which no ordinary assault is likely to prove successful. Preparations for work in the woods are upon about the ordinary scale in most localities.

Piling still fails to give the buyer much of a chance unless there happens to be an odd lot upon which necessity for realizing is a little extreme. Stock in chains and some sections of the city with about the usual average assortment required to meet the calls of buyers, stuff as scaffolding, clothes poles, etc., the position is also well held and without signs of abatement in valuation.

Hemlock is firmer owing in part to reduced offerings of stuff of such character as the bears have been using to talk cut rates upon. or probably, more properly speaking, the natural firmness of the market stands out more prominently as standard desirable sizes become the principal article for negotiation. Representatives of the Pennsylvania producers, in fact, not only claim full former top rates, but have evidence that it would not be very difficult to obtain some little advance owing to the anxiety manifested on the part of some buyers.

White Pine is losing no ground in point of average relative sale, but many operators somewhat reluctantly admit that they find little if any gain, and, in fact, there are just about the old unsatisfactory features ruling and so likely to continue for some little time to come, the absolute close of navigation being about the only juncture at which a steadier feeling might be expected. Even then, however, supplies will remain available should anyone want them at only about the difference of cost between that of water transportation and deliveries in car lots by rail. Chances for increased distribution are improving and in port already realized, and dealers who make a specialty of the export trade calculate upon increased orders, as the Eastern ports close and orders have to come in this direction.

Yellow Pine may not be called for with quite so much freedom as heretofore, but it has a way of securing a goodly portion of the current line of general trade, and, all in all, is doing just about as well as any other class of lumber. There is, of course, the usual difficulty encountered in the attempt to get close information ou this market, owing to the stolid reticence of a portion of the trade, who thus tacitly admit fear of having their doings made public, but there is nothing to indicate that sellers lose advantage on either first or second hand dealings, Carolina Pine is finding a smooth working market apparently, and few if any complaints are to be heard from the selling side. The distribution is somewhat more closely confined to local custom, as out of town buyers are reasonably well stocked up, but there seems to be no excess of offering and full former rates are insisted upon.

Hardwoods work out into consumption somewhat more freely though this is about in accord with the season and simply realizes calculations. Most operators have a special good word to say in favor of some particular wood and in this way one may hear on a trip through the market commendation of nearly all staple descriptions, though as leaders there can be placed ash, quarter-sawed oak, fine cherry and first-class poplar. Values are well sustained and while agents from interior points are ready or a little anxious to operate they are unwilling to do so at a sacrifice on value.

Shingles have been somewhat irregular, but on the general range holders do not give way to any extent owing in part to the lateness of the season, and a belief that supplies will not come forward with freedom sufficient to cause much difficulty. Demand fair on the average and now and then a full export order can be placed.

The Timberman as follows:

The Timberman as follows:

Minnesota dealers are favored with a very low rate to Eastern cities just now, the South Shore road having made a rate of thirty-three cents from Duluth to New York and Philadelphia, and thirty-five cents to Boston. This is fifteen cents lower than via Chicago and only five cents higher than from Chicago to New York and Boston.

Indications in the St. Croix valley point towards a decreased cut this season from that of last winter and very little has been doing in logging so far, though at this time last year 30,000,000 to 4,000,000 feet were in olace. Much, of course, will depend upon whether the season is favorable or not.

THE CHICAGO CARGO MARKET.—Arrivals of lumber the past week have oeen quite heavy for this time of year, but the number of cargoes of good linch, piece stuff and lath was not sufficient to satisfy the demand. Prices for all grades of good lumber were stronger and buyers plenty. Coarse inch still meets with poor sales owing to a light demand. Piece stuff is coming in greater quantity than for some time past, but a great deal of it goes on up the river, without stopping at the foot of Franklin street. A few cargoes were in sight at the close, and prices on piece stuff and good inch held firm, but common boards dragged. Short green piece stuff brought $9.50 readily, and cargoes containing the scarcer lengths $10 and $10.50. No. 2 dry inch $11.50 and $12.50.

At the yards:

are equally scarce. Inquiry between yards for these sizes are frequent, and those who have any are not anxious to sell, preferring to keep the stock for their own regular trade. As near as can be learned all lists quoting short piece stuff at $11 have been withdrawn, and replaced by others quoting $11.50 and $12. Occasionally a sale is heard of at the old figures, but it is where such prices are given to catch a big bill, in which a profit can be made on some other item. Otherwise it would be foolish to sell 2x10s, especially at so low a figure, for it would cost more than that to replace them.

That piece stuff is also scarce at other places is indicated by the fact that an inquiry has been received from one firm at a Mississippi river point for prices on thirty-four cars of 2x4, 2x6 and 2x10, nothing longer than 18 feet.

A sure indication that prices are on an even basis all around and that little cutting is done, is the fact that there is very little difference in the estimates made by the different yards, even though the bill under consideration may be a large one. Several instances have come to our knowledge where the difference in bills ranging from $1,000 to $1,500 was less than $2.

The Mississippi Vallen Lumberman as fell.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

Before the end of the coming week, whether the weather be mild or cold, it is probable that production will have ceased except at such of the mills as defy custom in the North and run the mills all the year around. A few straggling mills are running in the Mississippi Valley, and most of the Minneapolis mil's at this writing are still running, but a week's time and a lack of logs will put an end to the music of the saws of nearly, if not quite, all of them. It is yet early to give exact figures, but it is very certain that in the Wiscousin valley and west of that line the production of white pine timber has been much less than it was a year ago. It is not impossible, with the improvement of trade which has marked the past week or two, that the first part of December—the summing up date—will find the stocks of lumber in pile less than they were at the corresponding period last year. It is a realization of this fact, and that in volume of trade the year has not been so bad after all, though little can be said in the matter of prices, that is encouraging manufacturers and dealers to look upon the favorable side of the situation and have faith in a good healthy spring trade.

ENGLAND.

ENGLAND.

The Timber Trades Journal as follows:

American Black Walnut.—We still hear of frequent inquiries for large and prime logs, of which description the market has been singularly bare for some time past; recent importations have for the most part been of an exceedingly poor character, and those sold without reserve at late auction must surely have resulted in a serious loss to shippers, which it is to be hoped will deter them from sending any more such stock over here.

A good amount of business continues to be done in lumber; the inquiry, however, is generally for clean, sound boards and planks, without centre (1½ inches especially being much wanted); we also hear that the trade in inferior descriptions has manifested improvement of late.

American Whitewood.—We notice some very prime large logs have just been landed at the West India docks, but there does not appear to be much inquiry for such; a good trade, however, is doing in boards and planks, of which the recent arrivals have been very considerable.

Sequoia.—The prime parcel of planks ex Don Quixote, which was sold at public auction without reserve, seems to have attracted the attention of the trade in all quarters, and the whole was quickly disposed of at fair prices.

As this wood has now become so widely distributed we should think there is a good prospect before it, and doubtless, as it becomes better known, prices will improve.

For the finely figured flitches in same catalogue there were no biddings at all, but we shall not be surprised to hear ere long of some portion of this parcel being sold privately.

The Toronto Monetary Times, speaking of the Ottawa lumber trade, says:

The dullness indicated last week still continues, although for the most part the mills are still running, and, weather permitting, will continue to cut for three or four weeks.

The dullness indicated last week still continues, although for the most part the mills are still running, and, weather permitting, will continue to cut for three or four weeks.

The manufacture of lumber in the Ottawa valley this season, will, it is believed, not fall much short of five hundred million feet, and most of it was sold, according to the usual custom, early in the season.

Active preparations are now in p ogress for the winter's operations in the bush, many firms having had men at work since the end of August. Other gangs will of course follow when sleighing sets in. Wages are averaging from $18 to $25 per month with board, although some square timber men get more.

According to the St. John, N. B., Sun, the lumber cut up the bay this winter, at points whence it is brought to $t. John by schooners in summer, will be about 75,000,000 feet.

A tract of land containing 10,000,000 feet of hardwood timber in Essex County, Ont., has, it is reported, just been purchased by Detroit parties. It is within twenty-five miles of that city.

The Export Lumber Company report the following total shipments from the St. Lawrence to the River Plate during the season of 1889: Pine, 23,026,132 feet; spruce, 11,738,365 feet; hardwood, 33,000 feet; and small stowage, 516,376 feet; total, 33,313,573 feet. In 1 88 the total shipments were 18,089,716 feet; 1887, 31,036,076, and in 1886, 29,088,204 feet.

NAILS.—The market retains about former general features. Buyers are fairly independent and fight against suggestions of an advance in value, but manuagainst siggestons of an attach are in water, but manufacturers have matters very well in hand and can, as a rule, support rates without difficulty. Business of late has been very good and covers a wider general area of distribution. We quote at $2.10@2.15 per keg for car lots, and $2.20@2.25 per keg for parcels from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC .- Reports are a little variable and occasional complaint over the condition of trade may be heard. About all really seasonable demand is represented, however, and it is seldom that sellers have to make any positive concession to secure attention; indeed, on really standard goods there is quite a steady tone preserved without difficulty, and so far as shown on the surface supplies do not exceed the outlet. Linseed Oil varies a little at times on the country make but the city product is kept pretty steady. We quote at 57½.058c. for Western, and 60.062c, for City. Spirits Turpentine has found a sluggist market and prices are lower, closing unsettled. We quote at 47.048c. per gallon, according to quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH .- Some fair deliveries on con-

WINDOW GLASS .- The wires have been kept hot window glass manufacturers in various sections of the country for the purpose, as was stated, of forming one vast pool of all the makers in the United States, not exactly in the nature of a trust, yet to be a combine sufficiently monopolistic and powerful to control production and fix prices, the latter, according to announcement, to be marked up quite a liberal percentage. Matters, however, do not appear to have materialized in quite the positive form that some of the accounts suggested, the Ohio and Indiana makers refusing as yet to come in, though intimating that they may be induced to do so by the end of the year, provided the existing associations in other sections make attractive tenders for amalgamation. In the meanwhile both domestic and foreign stock continues to find about the usual seasonable demand and well, especially on local account. week with dispatches announcing meetings of
